RAF Pounds Invasion Ports

OFFICIAL NEWS

London

March 10 (INS)

By JAMES E. BROWN

British planes hammered German-occupied French channel ports today after pasting Calais and Boulogne during the night in one of the heaviest RAF asaults since autumn.

In addition, the air ministry announced, a strong force of British bombers again raided the German manufacturing center of Essen, concentrating particularly on the Krupp armament works there.

An official communique said Essen was attacked in good visibility. Large numbers of fires were seen to spread to great size, while objectives elsewhere in the Ruhr also were bombed.

Three British bombers are missing.

During the night and well into this morning, British long-range cross-channel guns sent salvo after salvo against German shipping in the Straits of Dover.

Today's explosions were believed to indicate that an aerial attack on German shipping in the Straits of Dover was continuing. Weather on the straits was generally cloudy with occasional bright intervals, while the French coast was shrouded in haze.

The RAF attack on Calais and Boulogne was one of the heaviest since last autumn and marked an intensification of the British aerial campaign against enemy targets in occupied France.

Vichy Denies 40 Ships Sent Nazis

VICHY, March 10 (AP)—Authorized circles today denied that 40 French warships had been turned over to the Germans, as reported in a Tass, Soviet news agency, dispatch yesterday from Cairo.

The Tass dispatch said 40 warships, including the 35,000-ton battleship Clemenceau and an 8000-ton cruiser, which were still being built by the French at the time of the armistice, had been made available to the Germans.

INDIA REVOLT THREATENED BY MOSLEMS

New Delhi, India

March 10 (AP)

Apparent delay in Prime Minister Churchill's statement to the House of Commons on India, which Indians had expected today, caused disappointment here.

In a cable to Churchill, Mohammed Al Jimmah, president of the All-India Moslem League, said Moslem India would "revolt" if the statement were detrimental to Moslem interests, particularly the plan to divide India into autonomous Moslem and Hindu states.

Jinmah's threat was widely regarded as being in deadly earnest. It was believed an overwhelming majority of Moslems would rally behind such a slogan as "Britain betrayed Moslem India."

India has 77,000,000 Moslems and 240,000,000 Hindus.

Churchill India Talk Due; Dominion Favored

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill will make a statement on the government's India policy at the next sitting of Commons, Sir Stafford Cripps, Lord Privy Seal, told the House today.

(This statement may come tomorrow, since Commons usually meets on Wednesday.)

Dominion status for India as the price for her millions' war support for Britain meanwhile was regarded here as a virtual certainty, and the weight of cabinet influence apparently was veering toward an offer which would be put into force promptly.

With the mailed fist of the Japanese army beating on the door of the empire's treasure chamber and its people's attitude tepid toward Britain because of unfulfilled aspirations for freedom, the cabinet debated the measure of Indian independence Saturday and yesterday.

Informed sources said the snag was on the timing of dominion status—whether to grant it now or promise it later.

Essentially three plans for India are believed to be before the cabinet: A flat offer of post-war dominion status; a gradual grant of dominion status during the war, and immediate dominion status.

Hitler Calls Vast Forces To Hit Reds

London

March 10 (AP)

By ROBERT E. BUNNELLE

Adolf Hitler was reported digging deep into his reserves of manpower today and moving up his forces for a gigantic spring offensive from Leningrad to Rostov to smash Russia and end a growing threat to Germany proper.

The Germans were said to fear if anything went wrong around Leningrad the Russians might smash right through the Baltic states into Germany.

Reliable sources said confidential advices coming from so many quarters that they are "almost certainly accurate" indicate the Germans had abandoned earlier plans for a defensive war in the north and a sharp offensive in the south.

Instead, these informants said, Hitler appears to be planning a general attack because of the Red army's unexpected successes in the Staraya Russa area and a weakening of the Finns.

The steel ring the Russians had thrown around the trapped 16th German army at Staraya Russa was contracting, Moscow dispatches said.

Sources here said Hitler was pouring all reserves into the Eastern front, even stripping factories of 18-year-old youths and older men.

Contradicting the London reports of an accelerated spring offensive, a Swedish correspondent in Berlin wrote that conditions caused by early thaws made it doubtful whether the German armies could launch their drive before the end of April or May.

The Swedish correspondent wrote from Berlin that the thaws were giving the "Germans a foretaste

JAP LEGIONS SURGE ON TO OIL AND INDIA

OFFICIAL NEWS

Mandalay, Burma

March 10 (AP)

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Japanese legions which have conquered Rangoon and closed the Burma supply line to China in two months surged westward today toward the oil fields of Irrawaddy and the fabulous riches of India.

The British indicated they were conceding the lose of the entire southern tip of Burma from Rangoon to the Bay of Bengal by destroying public utilities at Bassein, an important port about 90 miles west of the Burmese capital and key city of the Irrawaddy river delta.

To carry the scorched earth policy still further, American drillers and engineers working for British oil interests in the Irrawaddy fields 300 miles from Rangoon were ready to smash them so thoroughly that they said the Japanese could not repair them for five years.

With the fall of Rangoon and the imminent threat to Bassein, the port city of Akyab on the Bay of Bengal remained the sole point in Burma for water communication with India over which reinforcements might move unimpeded to the British.

U. S. OFFICIAL

Canberra, Australia,

March 10 (AP),

The Japanese made a third landing on New Guinea today, enlarging the forces they are marshalling there for what Australians are convinced is an imminent attempt to invade this continent.

The landing was at Finschhafen, where there is a small airfield and a harbor which can accommodate moderate-sized vessels. The strength of the new landing force was not stated.

It is 60 miles west of Lae which, with Salamaua, were the sites of two previous Japanese landings.

These and repeated Japanese air bombardments of Port Moresby—another air raid there today was the ninth—have banished any doubt among officials that Australia may be overlooked by the Japanese temporarily in favor of a drive into India.

FLIERS SLASH JAPS

In heavy counter-blows the Australian air force attacked Japanese concentrations over a wide range in the New Guinea area, scoring hits and near misses on enemy transport units and also machine-gunning and setting fire to a Japanese flying boat.

Australia's air force, strengthened by the return from other fronts of battle-proved fliers to defend their homeland, has been ordered to take the offensive against the gathering enemy strength at the commonwealth's doorstep.

Air Minister Arthur S. Drakeford said that some of these were commanding the RAAF and that it was using every resource at its command to strike at the springboards of invasion on New Guinea, some of them but 45 minutes by fighter plane from these shores.

DARWIN WAITS BLOW

All this was regarded only as a delaying action, however, as the new enemy landings and renewed air operations underlined the conviction of Australian authorities that an invasion attempt has become imminent and inevitable with the fall of Java.

They were said to regard the invasion of New Guinea as the forerunner of swift blows against the Australian mainland itself and as a full-scale assault probably aimed against Darwin, Broome, Wyndham and other centers on the north and east coasts.

Atrocities by Jap Soldiers In Hongkong Bared

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden charged in the House of Commons today the Japanese army in Hongkong had been guilty of wholesale atrocities in the occupied crown colony. He declared the Japanese Emperor and government and "the whole Japanese people" were to blame.

Text of Eden Charges

Following is the text of a statement on Japanese atrocities made in the House of Commons today by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and released in Ottawa by the Canadian ministry of external affairs:

Out of regard for the feelings of the victims, His Majesty's government has been unwilling to publish any accounts of Japanese atrocities at Hongkong until these had been confirmed beyond any possibility of doubt.

His Majesty's government now is in possession of statements by reliable eyewitnesses who succeeded in escaping from Hongkong toward the end of January or early in February.

Their testimony established the fact that the Japanese army at Hongkong perpetrated against their helpless military prisoners and civil population without distinction of race or color the same kind of barbarities which aroused the horror of the civilized world at the time of the Nanking massacre of 1937.

50 Bayoneted

It is known that 50 officers and men of the British were bound hand and foot and then bayoneted to death.

It is known that 10 days after the capitaulation, wounded were still being collected from the hills and the Japanese were refusing permission to bury the dead.

It is known that women, both Asiatic and European were raped and murdered and that one entire Chinese district was declared a brothel regardless of status of inhabitants.

All the survivors of the garrison, including Indian, Chinese and Portuguese, have been herded into a camp consisting of wrecked huts without doors, windows, light or sanitation. By the end of January 150 cases of dysentery had occurred, but no drugs or medical facilities were supplied.

The dead had to be buried in a corner of the camp.

Guards Callous

The Japanese guards are utterly callous and the repeated requests of General Maltby, the general officer commanding, for an interview with the Japanese commander have been curtley refused.

This presumably means that the Japanese high command have connived at the conduct of their forces.

The Japanese government stated at the end of February that numbers of prisoners in Hongkong were British 5072, Canadian 1689, Indian 3829, others 357. Total 10,947.

Most of the European residents, including some who are seriously ill, have been interned, and like the military prisoners, are being given only a little rice and water and occasionally scraps of other food.

There is some reason to believe that conditions have been slightly improved since the date on which the eye-witnesses whom I have quoted escaped, but the Japanese government have refused their consent to a visit to Kongkong of a representative of the protecting power and no permission has yet been granted for such a visit by a representative of the International Red Cross committee. They have in fact announced that they require all foreign consuls to withdraw from all territories they have invaded since the outbreak of the war. It is clear that their treatment of prisoners and civilians will not bear independent investigation.

Japanese Code

I have no information as to conditions of our prisoners of war and civilians in Malaya. The only report available is a statement by Japanese official news agency of March 3, stating that 77,699 Chines have been arrested and subjected to what is described as "a severe examination." It is not difficult to imagine what that entails.

I am sorry that I have had to make such a statement to the House. Two things will be clear from it, to the House, to the country and to the world. The Japanese claim that their forces are animated by a lofty code of chivalry, "bushido," is a nauseating hypocrisy. That is the first. The second is that the enemy must be defeated. The House will agree with me that we can best express our sympathy with the victims of these appalling outrages by redoubling our efforts to ensure his utter and overwhelming defeat.

Anthony Eden

Fifty British officers and men were bound hand and foot and then bayoneted to death following the capture of Hongkong; women, both European and Asiatic, were raped and murdered and one whole Chinese district was declared a brothal without exception for the status of any of the inhabitants, Eden declared.

These happenings, previously reported to the government, were not made public until it had confirmation from reliable eyewitnesses recently escaped from the colony, Eden said.

(Editor's Note—The statement by Eden originally was credited in London dispatches to "an official spokesman." Even after the Canadian government in Ottawa had given out the complete text of the statement and attributed it to Eden, the London censor stubbornly refused to permit the London correspondents to use Eden's name. Only after several hours did the censor relent and allow the proper credit to be given.)

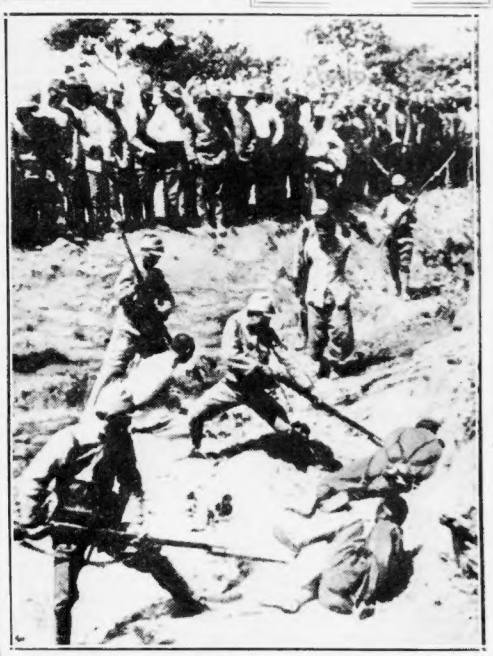
JAPS BAYONET CHINESE WAR PRISONERS



JAPANESE ATROCITY—As British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden charged in the House of Commons that 50 British officers and men were bound and bayoneted to death following the fall of Hongkong, corroboration of his charge comes in this smuggled photo from China . . . showing Japanese soldiers using bound and blindfolded Chinese prisoners for a deadly bayonet drill. Here, one prisoner (center) receives his death thrust, a second (front) cowers from his assailant, and a third, (rear) is led to the slaughter.

1400 SQUIRE WORKERS 100 P. C. FOR BOND DRIVE

BUY BONDS FOR MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS! Get behind our boys on the far flung battle fronts of the world conflict. If you can't be there yourself do your part by giving them the weapons to forge COMPLETE VICTORY.

"Are you, Mr. and Mrs. America, doing YOUR part?"

With that searching query as a challenge, 1400 employes of the John P. Squire Company of Cambridge today gave a resounding reply when a contribution of $132,000 was announced by J. G. Kennedy, manager of the firm.

"Climaxing a drive of less than two weeks' duration, the Squire's employes, 1400 strong, have subscribed 100 PER CENT for the purchase of BONDS FOR BOMBERS on the payroll deduction plan," Mr. Kennedy reported enthusiastically.

"Our people feel that, although we are engaged in producing food, much of which is for the armed forces, and ALL of which is vital to the 'food for freedom' needs of the entire populace, we WANT a more personal part in helping provide guns, ammunition, planes, tanks and ships that are needed to win this war.

"This is our answer to the President's appeal for all-out support of the government and in line with Secretary Morgenthau's suggestion that every wage earner and salaried person apply part of each week's earnings to the purchase of BONDS.

"The Boston Daily Record-Evening American and Sunday Advertiser have done their part in a most worthy and patriotic national "BUY A BOMBER" campaign and I wish to compliment them on their splendid achievement."

The Squire contribution, plus $3200 more in individual purchases, brings the BUY MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS fund total to $20,771,606.

Included in the other contributions is $2000 from the Boston City Hall Employes' Stamp Club and a $1000 bond purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Black of Allston.

Tax to Cut Incomes To $25,000 Is Urged

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 10 (INS)—Sentiment developed in the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee today to limit the amount of income to any one individual to $25,000 a year for the duration of the war.

Strangely, support for this drastic proposal came as a reaction to a suggestion that even steeper taxes than the double levy proposed by the Treasury, be placed on people in lower income classes.

It came also as the House met to pass a bill lifting the legal ceiling on the national debt from $65,000,000,000 to $125,000,000,000—a step which brings home to the Congress and the country the gigantic sums needed to insure victory over the Axis.

Many Congressmen, faced with the problem of adding greatly to the tax burden of the "little fellow," feel that before this would be a politically safe move, "every possible nickel" must be taken from the higher brackets.

Taxes on incomes above $25,000 already are very high, and bi-partisan support developed to make them a flat 100 per cent.

"I'll vote to limit individual income to $25,000 for the duration of the war," Rep. Knutson of Minnesota, veteran Republican member of the committee, declared. "I don't see why, in times like these, the country should not take everything above that."

Rep. Hill (D.) of Washington, another member of the group declared:

"It seems to me a limit of $25,000 is very fair.

"The little fellow who is being asked to make great sacrifices for the war will feel much better about it, and public morale will be enhanced if he is sure the people at the top aren't getting rich at his expense," Hill added.

ARMY GETS JUROR

KANSAS CITY, March 10 (AP)—Miss Catherine Conroy has to be satisfied with a verdict from an 11-man jury in her damage suit.

629 CITIES, TOWNS IN BLACKOUT TEST

Approval came today from the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety for the most extensive yet in the practice blackout program. On the night of March 23, between 9 and 9:20 there will be a total blackout of region 2, embracing 629 cities and towns, including Springfield, a western area covering 1723 square miles and with 418,902 residents.

The area also includes Chicopee, Holyoke, Northampton and Greenfield.

Following a 12-community trial last night, it was announced that 23 other cities and towns will get their first war test tonight for varying periods.

Tests will be held tonight in the following communities at the times indicated: 9 to 9:20—Dover, Leicester, Norwood, Westwood, Needham, Dedham; 9 to 9:30—Berlin; 9:15 to 9:30—Cohasset, Randolph, Hull, Braintree, Milton, Quincy, Weymouth, Holbrook; 10 to 10:15—Melrose; 10 to 10:20—Orange, New Salem, Warwick, Brookfield, Wendell, Phillipston, Athol.

Last night's blackout included towns bordered by Natick and Wayland on the east, Lancaster on the north and Douglas on the south. Tests also were made in Framingham, Sudbury, Southboro, Ashland, Bolton, Holliston and Winchendon.

With the exception of Winchendon, all of the latter communities will get another darkening on Thursday in the big blackout of Region 3, comprising most of Worcester County.

Meanwhile, it was announced that all of Cape Cod, from the canal to the tip of Provincetown, will go dark from 10 to 10:30 p. m. next Sunday night.

The blackout curtain will drape a huge area of 661 square miles covering 22 communities with a total population of 45,000, including beach resorts which provide a summertime playground for millions of U. S. tourists and vacationists.

The Cape area, known officially as Region 7, includes Camp Edwards, training station for thousands of Uncle Sam's young soldiers in the war against the Axis, as well as Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket, famed island resorts.

The blackout test was officially authorized by J. W. Farley, executive director of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, and Camp Edward officials announced they would co-operate in the test.

Pork Prices Frozen at March Top

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The government temporarily froze wholesale prices of 90 per cent of the nation's pork products, including ham and bacon, today at the highest levels prevailing between March 3 and March 7.

The ceiling, effective March 23, applies to dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts, and Price Administrator Henderson declared it was expected "to help importantly in holding down the cost of living."

Last year, consumers spent more than $2,000,000,000 for pork and other hog products.

Neither farmers nor retail outlets are covered directly by the emergency price schedule, but Henderson asserted both would feel its effects. When prices are fixed on dressed hogs or pork cuts, prices which the packer must pay for farmers' hogs automatically are limited.

Products covered under the ceiling include regular hams, fresh or frozen; regular hams cured, smoked, boiled or baked; baked and boned skinned hams, picnic hams, shoulders, pork loins, canned or packaged spiced luncheon meat made entirely from pork, slab bacon, Canadian bacon, sliced bacon, fat backs, spare ribs and canned or packaged spiced ham.

Dog in Crate Unclaimed Here

It's a dog's life when, through no fault of your own, you can be shipped off to another city without any identification papers and thus become thoroughly lost.

A German shepherd was in that plight today at Animal Rescue League headquarters, though he didn't seem to be worrying much.

A nice warm bath and a satisfying meal of beef and crackers did much to make him complacent.

The shepherd, dubbed "The New Yorker" for the present, became a problem when he arrived, crated, on a train from New York.

There was no tag on the crate and no papers were received by William W. Sullivan, chief clerk at the Boston end. After holding the animal for several hours at South Station with no claimant, Sullivan sent the dog to the Animal Rescue League, where Frank Waller, custodian, took him in charge.

According to word from Grand Central station, New York, the crated dog was near the train when a troupe of show people boarded it for Boston. Apparently some clerk believed the dog belonged to one of the actors and so shipped him out on the same train.

10,000 TO BE IN EVACUATION DAY PARADE

More than 10,000 marchers will parade through South Boston streets on March 17 as a climax for the Evacuation Day celebration, a patriotic observance so elaborate that it will really cover a four-day period.

The program will be officially launched Saturday morning, with two movie shows for children at 9 and 11 o'clock at the Strand and Broadway theaters.

On Sunday night, memorial exercises will take place in the auditorium of South Boston High School. School Committeeman Patrick J. Foley will make presentations of Defense Savings Stamps to the winners of an essay contest being held among students in public and parochial schools.

REV. CURRAN SPEAKER

The Rev. Edward Lodge Curran of New York will be the speaker of the evening, while Gov. Saltonstall, Mayor Tobin, Pres. William H. Flanagan of the South Boston Citizen's Ass'n, and William Gallagher, chairman of the Evacuation Day Committee, will also make addresses.

The celebration's committee will hold a night-before banquet in the Hotel Vendome Monday night, with Judge Leo H. Leary of the South Boston court as speaker. Judge William J. Day will be toastmaster.

On Tuesday morning, hundreds of South Boston school children will participate in patriotic exercises on Dorchester Heights. Flags will be distributed and wreaths placed on the Washington monument.

TROOPS WILL MARCH

In the afternoon will come the parade, replete with colorful floats and featuring fully equipped troops from Camp Edwards. Many veterans' organizations, also newly organized units, will join in the procession.

Chief Marshal Patrick J. Gannon said America's all-out war effort will be the keynote of the parade and accompanying celebration.

War Costs Britain $58,000,000 Daily

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Britain's war expenditures are £14,500,000 (about $58,000,000) daily and will show a further rise in the next few weeks," a spokesman declared today.

The total governmental expenditure was approximately £88,500,000 ($354,000,000) weekly from votes of credit, of which the fighting services took £68,000,000 ($272,000,000) weekly—nearly £9,750,000 ($37,500,000) each day, he said.

"We have left far behind the highest amount of expenditure in the last war and our requirements continue to increase," he said.

2 Without Federal Auto Stamps Are Each Fined $25

First in this area to feel the penalty for the offense, two men were fined $25 each by Judge George C. Sweeney in federal court today for violation of the law requiring purchase of the $2.00 auto use stamp.

Frederick R. Becker, 24, of Jaffrey st., Weymouth Heights, and a Fore River defense worker, and Russell C. Rutherford, 23, of Pond st., Georgetown, each pleaded guilty and paid the fine.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Edward Hassan recommended the fine as a "deterrant" to others who might risk driving without the stamp.

Justice Hall Rites Thursday

FITCHBURG, March 10—Funeral services for Walter Perley Hall, 74, retired chief justice of Massachusetts superior court, who died here today after a long illness, will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. in Unitarian Church, Fitchburg. Burial will be in Valley Cemetery, Manchester, N. H.

Judge Hall served 26 years on the superior court bench and resigned in September, 1937, because of ill health. He was named a superior court judge by Gov. Eugene Foss in 1911 and elevated to the post of chief justice in 1922 by Gov. Channing Cox.

He gave unstintingly of his judicial abilities and friends said he was often the first to arrive and last to leave Suffolk County Courthouse in Boston.

He was born in Manchester, N. H., May 9, 1867, the son of James Perley and Catherine (Wiley) Hall. He graduated from Brown University and received his law degree from Harvard Law School in 1890. He was awarded an honorary degree by Brown in 1910 for his work as chairman of the Massachusetts railroad commission.

During his public career he held offices in Clinton, where he established his practice, Fitchburg, Worcester County and in 1906 became first assistant attorney-general of the state.

NOTE: By all means open a Chandler charge. However, if you wish to budget on a 3-month plan, you may do so on purchases of $15 or more.

Misses! A bolero dress with a Pan-American springlike air!

8.95

The bolero . . a young fashion that never dies! Here it is on a black or navy rayon crepe, ever so much more charming with the print combination. Note how cleverly the print adds to the shoulders and buttonholes. It's very new, and in sizes 12 to 20.

Misses' Dresses, Fifth Floor

Choose a panel slip that will stand up to laundering!

$2

A grand bias slip of rayon crepe, with seam-to-seam shadow-proof panel! Fitted bustline, and lavish trim, add immensely to it! 32 to 40.

Also 4-gore style, sizes 32-44. Both in tearose or white.

Street Floor

Buy a fashion-wise fitted dressy coat that can "take it" all season long!

$25

And it sure can take it, for it's a handsome all wool twill that you can play up to for dressy wear. Or . . if you're informal minded, just remove the white cord effect neckline, and wear it loosely with your suits! Style features galore in it . . smooth-fitted back, long slimming revers, and a double-breasted effect front. In navy, black, caraway brown or airliner blue in sizes 12 to 20.

Third Floor

1.49

Ann-Lee Striped Tuck-ins that wear and wear!

Bold stripes on cotton that stand out with dramatic precision. Marvelous to launder! In aqua, blue, red, or maple, with even spaced white stripes. 32-40.

Blouses, Street Floor

A milan reflects the "good neighbor" hat influence!

3.98

A dramatic, sombrero-type milan straw hat, reminiscent of a grandee south of the border! It flares off the face, and has a deep kettle-edge brim of double rayon grosgrain. The final flattering touch is in the froth of dotted veil. Black, brown, navy, sizes 21½ to 23.

Coast Women's Defense Corps Split by Row

LOS ANGELES, March 10 (AP)—Dissension divided the Women's Ambulance and Defense Corps today.

Col. John W. Colbert, national commander, removed Comdr. Dorothy Hewes Bell as Los Angeles leader "because of inefficiency" at a meeting of 750 WADC members last night. Mrs. Bell and several officers immediately said they'll meet tomorrow night to form a new corps.

"The officers and members of the four units under her command were not properly trained . . . I am not going to allow club politics and friendship to deter us in the job of preparing the women of the corps for service," Col. Colbert said. "There are a number of vital activities as affecting our national defense involved . . . we cannot have any deadweight."

Comdr. Bell said she had been offered a demotion by the board of directors, but declined:

"I had no trial; no hearing," she said. "I have worked 16 months for the organization and then without any reason except the excuse I was inefficient I was ordered to step down."

First Lieut. Ruth Walker, one of several officers who rallied around Comdr. Bell, asserted:

"This is a case of the national board taking over control. They have moved in men to one-third of the positions on the board in a women's organization and we don't like it."

She resigned as secretary Feb. 25.

First Guerrilla Troops Drill To Guard U. S.

TILLAMOOK, Ore., March 14 (AP)—A guerrilla band, 1000 strong, organized by a blind veteran of the first World War perfected plans today to fight off any invasion attempt on the Oregon coast.

Stewart Arnold, the veteran who lost his sight but not his spirit in the first AEF, said 24 companies of guerillas had been formed. Only a few more were needed to complete defense plans for this rich coastal dairy community.

"We're just sort of backing up the Army," Arnold explained. "This is a big country and a rough country, and we can help guard it."

Woodsmen, loggers, farmers and cowmen have joined, each swearing on enlistment to defend until death the green hills and valleys stretching back from Tillamook bay.

They provide their own rifles and ammunition. They have no uniforms. They do no drilling. They intend to fight, as the Indians did before them, from the sandspits and cliffs along the ocean and in the timbered mountain passes.

Four retired Army officers have helped lay defense plans. Once a week the companies, organized by groups of 30 to 70 men, meet for target practice.

Almost as feared as invasion is enemy incendiary bombing of the forest back of the bay. The guerrillas have mapped off sections for each company to guard.

MIDWEST DAIRYMEN RAP CIO DRIVE

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP)—Farm organizations in the rich middle western dairylands opposed today the CIO campaign to unionize the nation's 3,500,000 dairy farmers.

Arthur H. Lauterbach, general manager of the Pure Milk Ass'n, a marketing cooperative of 12,000 dairy farmers in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin, declared there was no common ground for labor and farmers in the same organization.

The executive committee of the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture, representing 38 organizations and 85,000 families in the nation's leading dairy state, termed the organizing drive selfish in purpose and based on a desire for "predatory power."

John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers' affiliate, the United Dairy Farmers, carried the membership drive recently to the Middle West and New England. The union claims more than 27,000 members in New York, Pennsylvania, Vermont and Michigan.

In his annual report, scheduled for delivery at his association's 17th annual meeting, Lauterbach said:

"We have seen that (organization) tried in Minnesota and North Dakota, where labor and farmers formed a political party. Labor outnumbered the farmers, and farmers received the short end of the stick. There are times when labor and farmers can work together, but not when it comes to the question of wages for labor and prices for farm products."

CAMBRIDGE BRIDE ADMITS SHE IS BURGLAR

Accused as a girl burglar, Mrs. Jennie Ardagna, 20, of Austin et., Cambridge, was arraigned today in East Cambridge court and pleaded guilty to breaking and entering in the night-time and larceny.

Judge Robert E. Wolcott held her in $500 for the grand jury.

Police Inspectors testified that Mrs. Ardagna is a bride of little more than five weeks, but already is separated from her husband, a 54-year-old Boston baker.

According to the police, she pried open the window of another lodger's room Saturday night and the other lodger, Mrs. Evelyn Reedy, 24, reported that a $60 diamond ring, a green-stone ring and $1 were missing.

Inspectors Timothy Toomey, James Quinn and Thomas Carroll found the diamond ring in a Cambridge pawnshop and traced it, they said, to Mrs. Ardagna.

They said she admitted the theft of that ring but denied knowledge of the other ring and money.

Family Row Leads To Student Suicide

GREENWICH, Ct., March 10 (AP)—Detective Capt. John J. Tuefel reported today that a Princeton student, found dead in his mother's basement garage, had committed suicide after a disagreement with his family over his wish to enlist in the Army at once rather than completing his studies.

The student, Joseph Chester Gibson, 22, was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Bicycle Not Built for 2 No. 12's, Parkman Finds

Short beds, it came out today, are not the only handicaps to the boys who tower over six feet and have to sit down in sections.

The way this knowledge was loosed on an unsuspecting world is along the edge of a military secret, but it is definitely established that a pair of knees and a pair of handlebars cannot occupy the same space at the same time and get anybody anywhere.

AUTO GOES ON BLOCKS

It was just 12 days ago when Henry Parkman, Jr., State rationing administrator and former State Senator and corporation counsel, enthusiastically and patriotically announced he was planning to buy a bicycle to conserve his auto tires.

That was the day he took office as rationing head, and in a burst of fervor he said:

"I'm planning to live in the country this summer and will ride the bicycle to and from the railroad station."

His automobile, he said, is up on blocks and will remain there for some time to come.

So, with this high purpose in mind, he set about looking for a bike.

Now, Henry has long been known in some circles as "High-pockets Parkman," and such a nickname does not come by accident. He is 6 feet 5 inches tall and he wears a size 12 shoe, and in all other respects he wasn't overlooked at all when they were dealing the out-sizes.

NO BIKE—HIT PIKE, HIKE!

He would not—that is to say—look well on a mule or a Mexican burro.

And since that patriotic declaration of intention, Henry has discovered that wanting a bike and being able to get one to fit him are two opposed things. No bike manufacturer ever figured pedals for a neat little 12 boot. Likewise they have aimed seldom, if at all, at the lanky trade.

Therefore, it appears that Henry Parkman, Jr., may have to adopt as a new motto:

"No Bike—Hit the Pike and Hike."

Do not accept any white bread ...that does not have the word 'Enriched' on the label"

—A LEADING GOVERNMENT NUTRITION EXPERT

All White Bread is not Enriched

☆☆☆ TIP-TOP IS!

TEN MONTHS AGO, the government recommended the enrichment of white bread with Vitamin B_1 and Food Iron.

The bakers of Tip-Top Bread immediately co-operated with this program which was obviously a vital step toward your better health.

In fact, we moved so fast that we were actually supplying the new, better, Enriched Bread to our customers on the day the recommendations were made public.

Naturally, we are proud of our record of co-operating with the government. It costs us hundreds of thousands of dollars to enrich Tip-Top—but it costs you not one cent more than ordinary white bread. It's our gift to your health . . . and to Uncle Sam.

Even today—after months of experience have proved the soundness of the government's enriched bread policy—all white breads still are not enriched. But Tip-Top is, has been and will continue to be!

Enrichment is a plus in Tip-Top Bread. For Tip-Top has a tempting "home-made" flavor, fine delicate texture and that oven-fresh goodness the whole family enjoys.

How can you be sure of getting Enriched Bread? There's one sure way . . . look for the word "enriched" on the wrapper. But be doubly certain by looking for Tip-Top's shield of quality. Then you know you have the finest enriched white bread that money can buy.

Today ask your food dealer for a loaf of Enriched Tip-Top Bread.

Farmer Finds 'Rubber' in U.S.

SALISBURY, Md., March 10 (AP)—Homer Pilkinton, 44-year-old farmer, has concocted a material that looks, feels and acts like rubber. He sent samples to the National Inventors Council to determine whether it might be of value in the war effort.

Pilkinton, who studied chemistry at Heidelberg University, Germany, said the base of the synthetic rubber was an ordinary plant, the name of which he did not disclose. He obtained one sample that was spongy and another that was firm.

No natural rubber was used in its preparation, he said. He mixed chemicals with the plant, experimented in his kitchen and prepared the material on his cookstove at a cost of less than 15 cents a pound.

She Who Got Slapped--- Pick Your Own Version!

DALLAS, March 9 AP —All agreed that the woman got slapped but when and where it happened and by whom were points of debate.

A Dallas newspaper carried a story Sunday.

It told of a young woman on a bus who remarked that she and her husband both had good defense jobs were making more money than ever before, so why worry about the war?

Then, related the paper, she was slapped by a man who had lost two sons at Pearl Harbor.

Came a telephone call.

"It didn't happen that way, and it was a week ago. It was a single girl. She said she hoped the war never ended, because she was making so much money on her defense job."

But she got the slap—as in the other version, added the caller.

Then there came another report that it happened on a street car but that the man who did the slapping was a prospect draftee.

Still another version: A man whose wife had heard a preacher tell about it said it happened two weeks ago.

Capping the climax a Civil War veteran claimed it occurred in 1863 near Birmingham, Ala., on a mule car.

JACKSON, Miss., March 10 (AP) —The Mississippi Legislature, which for 120 years has outlawed such things as Sunday bullfights and bear baiting, now is considering a measure to ban members of high school fraternities, already illegal, from continuing in their classes.

The bill, offered by Rep. J. T. Brown of Jackson, victim of a recent hoax concerning the appearance before the state Legislature of Wendell Willkie, also would make it illegal for members of fraternities to join college Greek-letter groups.

QUINCY WIFE WINS SUIT FROM DOCTOR

Judge John V. Mahoney, in Dedham probate court today, ruled that Mrs. Althea O'Brien of Quincy is living apart from her husband Dr. Walter O'Brien, for justifiable cause.

In granting Mrs. O'Brien's petition for separate support, giving her custod. of the three daughters and ordering the doctor to pay $40 a week, Judge Mahoney dismissed the doctor's suit for divorce.

"The doctor has not sustained his allegations and has not produced competent witnesses," said the judge.

"The court must say the doctor has been drinking so he has not known what he was doing at times."

Just prior to the verdict, Mrs. O'Brien had testified that women have been the principal cause of trouble between her and her doctor husband.

The wife, a registered nurse when she married Dr. O'Brien, then a medical student, in 1927, denied under cross-examination she ever interfered with his practice while he had women patients in his office.

She denied, too, that on one occasion while there was a woman patient in the office, she had entered and said to the patient:

"You've been here 15 minutes already and you'd better get out."

Questioned regarding an affair she said Dr. O'Brien had with a woman patient 10 years ago, Mrs. O'Brien said that it "blew itself out like a flame; it had its run and then blew out."

Long ago she had forgiven him that indiscretion, she declared, and she had never thought the other woman was trying to take the doctor away from her. Never had the witness been jealous of him.

SAYS HE PUNCHED HER

Asserting that he, rather than she, had been cruel and abusive, she testified that on the day of their break-up, Aug. 25, they were talking things over in his office when he punched her face.

She admitted that she then seized his necktie and hung on until he snipped the tie through with a pair of scissors.

She denied the doctor's testimony of yesterday that on two occasions she slapped him in front of men playing cards.

Likewise she denied ever going into a drugstore and drinking liquor with a man in the back room, and she denied ever taking the doctor's professional bag, thus preventing him from making his calls.

War Industry Seen Calling U. S. Women

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—An official war inventory of the nation's human resources declared today that millions of women would have to be shifted from housework to munitions factories in the expansion of war industries.

The survey was made by the Bureau of Census. It contained no specific mention of proposals that American women be drafted into factories as women are in England, but asserted:

"The maximum movement into the male labor force can hardly exceed 2,000,000 men. A larger expansion of the total labor supply evidently can be achieved only by drawing millions of women into the labor force."

The report said that 15,600,000 housewives between 18 and 44 years old represented the principal reserve from which additional war labor might be drawn.

"An enormous amount of manpower will be needed for replacing workers withdrawn into the armed forces and for expanding the output of war materials," it stated.

"Some of these needs can be met by utilizing the workers who are still unemployed, by lengthening the working hours and by transferring workers from non-essential civilian industries.

"In the future, however, such measures will not be sufficient. As in World War I, millions of people who are not ordinarily workers must be drawn into the labor force."

Although the report predicted a shift of young, unmarried women from rural areas into cities where they could be directly employed in war industries, it said that the great majority of the needed increase in the labor supply must come from women in urban and rural non-farm areas.

LEADERS URGE QUICK AID FOR GEN. M'ARTHUR

Special to Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, March 10. Praise for gallant Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his tiny band of fighting men was sounded today by New Yorkers of every walk of life who at the same time urged immediate aid to the heroic defenders of Bataan.

A former presidential candidate, ministers, war veterans, congressmen and other public officials were among those requesting aid and reinforcements for the man whose name is already being placed beside those of Washington, Grant and Lee as one of America's greatest generals.

Said Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican candidate for President:

"I have felt that the all-important thing is a unified command. I selected Gen. MacArthur in my own mind for the leadership of that unified command because he has shown the most ability for the task.

"I assume, of course, that help could be sent to Gen. MacArthur, but I have made no inquiry concerning the practical possibilities of sending aid to Bataan."

Congressman J. Parnell Thomas, (R.) of New Jersey, ordered:

"Our government must use every available means to supply Gen. MacArthur with men and the implements of war and as quickly as possible.

"We have been thinking too much of defense and not enough of offense. We should use MacArthur's forces as a springboard for an offensive fight that will lead to victory."

MESSAGE OF HOPE

Capt. Francis Colgate Dale, chief of staff, New York State Veterans of Foreign Wars, said:

"MacArthur's example of generalship and courage has excited the imagination, gratitude and fighting spirit of the American people.

"I find that public opinion is overwhelming that the siege of Corregidor and Bataan can and will be raised.

"Unparalleled sacrifices have won for the enemy on all Axis fronts and it may be a necessary price for our own success.

"We should send to Gen. MacArthur and his men a message that all the world may intercept expressing the determination of every earnest American in these words:

"Hold on, MacArthur! We're coming—20,000,000 strong via Pearl Harbor, Bataan and Corregidor to Tokyo. A little late, perhaps, but surely."

FORMER MAYOR SPEAKS

Former Mayor James K. Walker said:

"We are all hoping that it is possible for help to be sent to Gen. MacArthur. The Mikado is the only one that I know of who could possibly be against sending every item of possible assistance to the gallant general."

Louis Cohen, city councilman, said:

"Gen MacArthur is doing one of the greatest military jobs in the history of this country. In recognition of this, I believe reinforcements should be sent if at all possible and an all-out offensive drive launched against Japan.

"Why can't the workers in our aircraft production plants have the same courage and initiative."

ALLIES NOW SEEN SET TO GRAB MADAGASCAR

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Unofficial quarters discussed the possibility today that Allied troops might soon move to occupy the Vichy-controlled island of Madagascar in the western part of the Indian ocean, close to Africa's east coast and in a strategic position to control Allied supply lines.

They pointed out that since the fall of Singapore the importance of Madagascar has been doubled, and that such an Allied move might have to be made to forestall Japanese occupation of the island.

They emphasized, too, the fact that a Japanese mission is reported to have been in Madagascar for the past six weeks, negotiating for naval and air bases.

One informed but unofficial source said occupation of the island was imperative because the Axis already is in possession of one naval base in the south Indian ocean, on Vichy-owned Kerguelen island (Desolation Land), southeast of Capetown.

"I am positive the Japanese were refueling German raiders there early in 1941," he declared. "I know Kerguelen well and any other mariner who has been there will verify it has a series of well-sheltered harbors."

Madagascar is the fourth largest island in the world and France's largest insular possession. It came under French rule in 1896.

Its extreme length of 980 miles, if superimposed on the United States, would extend from Chicago to Dallas, Tex. Its area of 228,500 square miles is exceeded by only three other islands, Greenland, New Guinea and Borneo.

Madagascar lies about 250 miles off the East African coast, separated from the Portuguese East African colony of Mozambique by the Mozambique Channel. Its principal harbor, Diego Suarez, is one of the finest natural ports in the world.

of what it will be like when all the great snows which have massed during the severest winter in nearly 100 years begin to melt."

Thaws already have prevented wide-scale troop movements in some sectors, and fresh snowstorms were reported to have brought a virtual standstill to fighting in the Kerch peninsula and Donets basin.

New blows by the Russians against the northern and southern extremities of the eastern front continued the Red effort to cripple the Nazi war machine before it could snap out of its winter lethargy.

Soviet reports said the Red army based on Leningrad was extending its operations toward Schluesselburg, key point at the eastern end of the German line. The Reds also claimed the occupation of an important point on the Orel front.

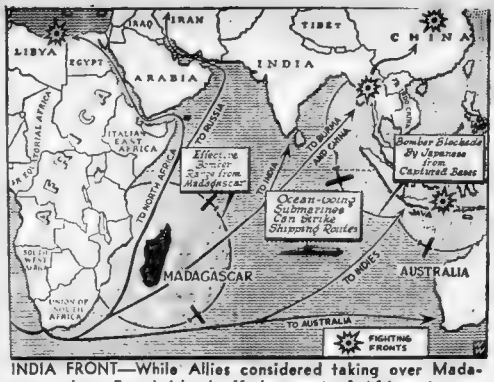
Portuguese Troops Arrive on Timor

BERLIN, March 10 (By official German wireless) (INS) — The Portuguese transport Jaoa Belo, carrying 1000 Portuguese troops, has arrived at Dilli, island of Timor, southwest Pacific, it was reported from Lisbon today.

(The report indicated Japan is permitting Portugal to strengthen her possessions in the Far East. Dutch and Australian forces occupied the Portuguese half of the island of Timor early in the conflict but later were overcome by the Japanese.)



INDIA FRONT—While Allies considered taking over Madagascar, huge French island off the coast of Africa, it was learned that the Japanese already had a mission there. The map shows the importance of the island, which, with Burma and eastern India in Japanese hands, would threaten all of India and military munitions routes to Suez and Russia.

DR. INEZ CLARKE'S RICHES BRING FORTH MANY 'KINFOLK'

From near and far scores of persons named Clark or Clarke are claiming relationship to the late Dr. Inez Louise Clarke, reputedly wealthy Cambridge recluse, who was found dead in her 20-room rat-infested mansion Saturday.

So far as is known the 78-year-old eccentric left no near kin, and as yet no will has been found. She had lived in seclusion in one or two rooms of her huge home at Massachusetts ave. and Inman st., since the death of her sister, Genevieve, in 1931.

According to Medical Examiner David C. Dow, who ordered her body held for 24 hours at Watson's mortuary to allow time for relatives to claim it, a considerable number of persons called him claiming kinship, but none offered proof.

Meanwhile the city clerk's office reported a number of visits from persons requesting Clarke family records, while Col. Dana T. Gallup, appointed public administrator of the estate, said he had an appointment with a family of that name from Rhode Island.

Dana said funeral services would be conducted tomorrow at 11 o'clock at Watson's funeral home in Magazine st.

The Rev. William H. McNair, retired pastor of the Prospect Congregational Church, will officiate as he did at the funeral of Genevieve Clarke. Dr. Clarke will be buried beside her sister in a double grave in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

Denies Attempt To Kill Babies

Pleas of not guilty to charges of assault with intent to murder her two small children were entered in East Cambridge court today for Mrs. Iris Lawlor, 25, of Cambridge st., Cambridge, by Judge Robert Wolcott.

Released today from Cambridge City Hospital where she had been under treatment since she was found overcome by gas in her home, Mrs. Lawlor was in the building, but did not appear in the courtroom.

Police charge that the young mother, after a quarrel with her husband Thomas, attempted to kill her youngsters, Virginia, 1½, and Roberta, 3, and herself, by opening gas jets in the kitchen range.

Judge Wolcott ordered her removed to Boston Psychopathic Hospital for observation and continued the case to March 20.

Ickes Bans Word "Defense," Says to Think of "War"

WASHINGTON, March 10 (INS)—Calling for elimination of the word "defense" in our national thinking, Secretary of the Interior Ickes declared today the United States should substitute the word "war."

"We've got to lick the Germans in Germany, and the Japs in Japan, to achieve a final victory," Ickes told a meeting of the industry committee on solid fuels. "Defense won't do the job. This is war."

He promptly changed the name of the committee to "The Solid Fuels Advisory War Council."

STARK SHIFT MAY BRING BIG NAVAL DRIVE

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Assignment of Admiral Harold R. Stark to London as commanding officer of American warships in European waters caused speculation in naval circles today as to whether the United States might be planning to increase its naval strength across the Atlantic.

If a squadron of American ships moved to this side of the Atlantic, observers commented, the Germans may have to alter their plans for using their battlefleet to sweep the North Atlantic.

Admiral King Chief In Big Navy Shakeup

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—A conference on naval strategy in the Pacific was scheduled by President Roosevelt today with Admiral E. J. King, the newly designated supreme commander of naval operations, and Rear Admiral Thomas C. Hart, just returned from the Southwest Pacific area.

RAF Torpedoes Rip 3 Duce Ships

CAIRO, March 10 (AP)—British torpedo bombers set fire to an Italian cruiser, a merchant vessel and a destroyer in the central Mediterranean yesterday, an official announcement said today.

An RAF communique said the attack was directed against an enemy convoy "escorted by units of the Italian fleet."

Attacks on the islands of Rhodes and Leros and on Piraeus, the seaport for Athens, also were reported, but no details were given. These took place Sunday night.

(An Italian communique identified the islands as Rhodes and Samos, and said in an attack on Athens two buildings were destroyed and two civilians were killed.)

Junior Army Groups Active in War Work

Closely following the Physical Fitness course published in the Evening American and the First Aid course printed in the Daily Record, Roosevelt Co. A of the Junior Victory Army is one of the most active groups organized by JVA members throughout New England.

The Roosevelt company consists of 15 members, headed by Robinson Wood of Dedham, former Boy Scout and former messenger boy. They meet regularly at the home of K. E. Horton, Tower st., Dedham, who serves as their adult sponsor, guiding them in their activities and helping them conduct their sessions.

Robinson's group open their meetings with a prayer by their chaplain, Lawrence Derby, and then discusses First Aid and Physical Fitness lessons.

Other members of the club include "Buddy" Horton, secretary, Herbert Anderson, "Billy" Whooton, John Curly, Donald Chandler, Allan Bunn, John McSeveney and Gerard Anderson.

MORE FUN IN GROUPS

JVA members will get extra fun and get the most out of their membership by organizing their own groups, holding regular meetings and reporting weekly on their defense activities to Junior Army headquarters.

They should choose their officers and a name for their particular club, battalion, squadron or what ever they want to call their group.

These groups can be all boys or all girls or both girls and boys. They should obtain an adult sponsor to give them advice and guide them in their meetings and activities.

The adult sponsor can be a parent, a school teacher, a scout master or any leader of boys and girls activities.

Reports should be made out carefully by the secretary with names spelled correctly and giving the time and address of the meeting place. All officers' names should be listed.

These reports will be printed in the Junior Army news in the Daily Record - American - Boston Sunday Advertiser.

TROOP JOINS

Here are answers to queries contained in the most recent letters from various members:

Back copies of the Daily Record and the Evening American containing the First Aid lessons and the Physical Fitness lessons can be obtained at 5 Winthrop sq., Boston. The First Aid course was printed in the Record, Lesson One being published Monday, Feb. 23. The Physical Fitness course was printed in the Evening American, and Lesson One was published Tuesday, Feb. 24.

Kenneth E. Paxton, scout master of Rotary Troop No. 4 of South Norwalk, Ct., reports that the 30 members of his troop voted unanimously at their last meeting to join the Junior Army. This troop is one of the honor troops of that council.

ON-THE-SPOT NEWS TIPSTER AWARDED $15

While police sirens were screaming as Northampton police chased a pair of daring bandits who got $14,000 in a holdup there, a resident of the city called the Record-American Tip Editor at LIBerty 4000 by long distance phone and thereby won the special top award of the week—a $15 tip for his tip.

He shared in a boost from the usual $25 weekly awards to awards of $100 being made this week and next for best news tips and exclusive photos of news or human interest events.

In addition to the cash prizes, 50 pairs of guest theater tickets are awarded this week and next to Loew's State and Orpheum theaters, where the picture "Woman of the Year" starring Spencer Tracy as a sports reporter is being shown.

ON SCENE WITH CAMERA

A Newton man, on the scene with a camera, snapped action pictures of injured persons being removed from a cracked-up vehicle, hurried them to the Tip Editor and for his alertness is awarded second prize of $10.

Even before the fire-tapper in the Tip Editor's sanctum had beaten out the five alarms for a Congress st. storage house blaze, an East Boston man was on the phone with a tip, and for his speed was awarded a $5 prize.

A second $5 prize went to a South Shore resident for tip on a fatal plane crash, while a Melrose man reporting overturn of a freight train in Biddeford, Me., as he was passing through there, received $1.

OTHER AWARDS

Four persons shared awards of $3 each: a Pittsfield man for tip on two killed in an auto crash; a Waltham man for tip on return of a Waltham girl from Pearl Harbor; a Somerville man for tip on a fatal Cambridge stabbing and suicide and a South Boston woman for tip on a stolen car crash.

Four more persons shared awards of $2 each: a Roxbury man for a "picture tip" on branding of city owned tires to halt thefts; a Brighton man for another "picture tip" on children riding canoes in South Boston street flood; a Charlestown man for tip on a Concord turnpike oil truck crash and fire and a Revere man for his own pictures of a trailer crash.

Eleven women and 30 men shared prizes of $1 each for promptly calling Liberty 4000 and telling the Tip Editor about such things as a baby born in the Cambridge blackout; Old Harbor housing project youngsters using canoes in flooded streets; attempted murder in Brookline and any number of fatal and near fatal motor crashes and other mishaps which they saw.

Bury One Boy, X-Ray Brother

While preparations were being made today at Cambridge City Hospital to X-ray James V. Bonsignore, 11, to determine if his skull was fractured, funeral plans were announced for his brother, Robert, 10.

Robert was crushed to death yesterday, and James was injured when the bucket of a steam shovel in Rogers st., East Cambridge, turned over, trapping the younger boy beneath it, and striking the elder lad.

Funeral services for Robert will be held from the Bonsignore home in Thorndike st., East Cambridge, on Thursday, with a high mass of requiem at 9:30 a. m. in St. Francis of Assisi Church. Burial will be in St. Michael's Cemetery, Forest Hills.

Meanwhile the mother of the boys, Mrs. Vincent Bonsignore, was in bed and under a doctor's care at the home.

Milk Delivery Row Settled

A threatened strike by 1500 milk truck drivers in Greater Boston was averted today when the Milk Control Board agreed to make alternate-day milk deliveries mandatory.

The drivers delivered their strike ultimatum to representatives of 16 distributors after charging that they were losing customers and commissions to drivers making daily deliveries of milk.

The local members of Boston Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, AFL, said they had been cooperating with the nations rubber conservation program by delivering milk on alternate days.

Settlement was reached after a conference between the union and company representatives.

Holyoke Woman Burned to Death

HOLYOKE, March 10 — Mrs. Ethel Monahan, 37, a resident of the Park View Hotel, Hampden ... was burned to death today in a fire which destroyed the interior of the three-story wooden structure causing an estimated damage of $5000.

Her husband, Leo, ran from the hotel with a score of others when it became apparent that the building was on fire. Unable to find his wife, he attempted to go back, but was stopped by firemen.

Two firemen entered Mrs. Monahan's room with gas masks, but reported she was not there. At Monahan's insistence, Fire Capt. Raymond Cullen made a search.

He opened a closet door, found her with a blanket over her head. Both the blanket and her clothing were on fire.

She was carried to the street, but died on the way to the Holyoke Hospital.

This is a delivery boy

This is a 10-ton truck

BOTH are useful to deliver things

If you were in the music business you wouldn't deliver a sheet of music with a 10-ton truck. You wouldn't expect the delivery boy to deliver a grand piano.

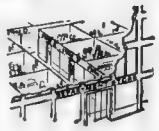
Newspaper advertising is like that. It delivers messages. The amount of space you use for your message depends on the kind of message you have to deliver—and there is newspaper advertising space for any kind of message.

The farmer with a cow for sale can get his message across in the classified columns.

The dry-goods merchant needs several columns of display space to show the many things he has to sell.

A big department store is really many stores in one. Each department really is a store. A department store may take as much as a whole section—many pages—of a newspaper to advertise its wares.

Thus, you see, the newspaper is a messenger that can do the job of the delivery boy or the 10-ton truck. It can deliver messages of any size from one line in the classified columns to many pages of display space.



Newspaper advertising is flexible—can be fitted to the needs of anyone with a message to deliver.

Messenger boys get tired

Ten-ton trucks wear out

But newspapers go on delivering their advertisers' messages, tirelessly, forcefully, day after day, week after week, month after month, year after year.

Thus newspapers can do more than make sure that their messages are delivered. By repetition they can make sure that their messages are read, remembered, accepted.

Draft All; Freeze Prices, Wages

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Monday—We had some very interesting discussions yesterday afternoon at the White House on the subject of what the general attitude of the people should be during this war period. I've come to one very clear decision, namely, that all of us—men in the services, and men and women at home, should be drafted and told what is the job we are to do. It seems to me there should be immediately a freezing of prices, of profits and of wages. No one can be frozen without freezing all.

The only way I can see to get the maximum service out of our citizens, is to draft us all and to tell us all where we can be most useful and where our work is needed. So long as we are left to volunteer, we are bound to waste our capacities and to do things which are not necessary.

We are bound, quite thoughtlessly, to waste materials which we have wasted in the past, but which we no longer have a right to waste. I would be relieved beyond measure, and so would many people throughout the nation, if an authority greater than our own personal decision told us where we could be most useful.

I realize that in the White House this is a more difficult question with which to cope, than it is outside. In the last war I ran a private home and complied with whatever the government asked of us. We were never sufficiently involved in the last war, either in a military or an economic way, to require much regulation beyond what could be obtained from people of good will on a voluntary basis.

WE ARE in quite a different situation at this time. I personally, am in a different situation in the White House than I was the President, as head of the nation, requires in his household certain things which would not be necessary in any private house. In private life, however, I should like to feel that I was complying with the wishes and doing the things which those in authority thought should be done.

In talking with someone this morning, I discovered I had not conveyed one point which I think important when I spoke over the air last Sunday. I want to emphasize it in this column—we wish to increase our production of foodstuffs. The large and well-managed, and often absentee owned farms in this country are already producing to the maximum.

Our great hope is to increase the production on the small farm. The Farm Security Administration, working with the lowest income farmers, has proved that this can be done through wise advice in management, small loans and assistance in marketing produce. Therefore, I believe it is a good investment to increase the use of Farm Security Administration methods.

Smart Set Functions

SINCE HER ENGAGEMENT on Valentine's Day, Sue Ayer of Milton has been busy looking up the dress shops, engravers and florists who have been advertising quick and efficient wedding services . . . for though Sue has had a comparatively longer time than most war brides to plan her wedding, a month isn't too long to collect a fashionable trousseau, wedding gown and all the fixin's.

Barring unforseen assignments for her fiance Lieut. J. Harleston Parker of Commonwealth ave. . . . Sue and Harley will be married next Saturday in Dr. Vivian Pomeroy's church in Milton . . . Duaghter of Dr. and Mrs. James Bourne Ayer of Milton, the bride-to-be is a post-deb of the 1934 season, a member of the Junior League and doing her bit toward winning the war by serving as co-chairman of the nurses' aid department of the Red Cross volunteer service.

The bridegroom-to-be, son of Mrs. J. H. Parker of Boston, is a brother of James Parker, 2d, of Wenham, Mrs. Richard Rowland Stebbins of Medfield and Mrs. Laurence White, Jr., of Charlottesville, Va. . . . His sister-in-law, Mrs. Jimmy Parker, is president of the Vincent Club, and his sister, Peggy Parker White, is a former dancing star of Vincent shows.

Harley, an officer in the U. S Naval Reserve, was in the class of 1931 at Harvard where he belonged to D. K. E., Hasty Pudding and A. D. clubs . . . He also belongs to Tennis and Racquet, the Somerset and Tavern clubs.

On the eve of the wedding the bride and groom and their wedding attendants will be guests at a large dinner party given at The Country Club by the bride's uncle, Nathaniel Ayer, former president of the Harvard Club.

A PROFUSION of spring flowers and a tempting menu of dainty sandwiches, tea and coffee will be gracious accompaniments of the Charlotte Cushman Club's first spring tea dance of the season, being held this afternoon at the club on Marlborough st.

Stage stars currently playing in Boston theaters will be prominent among the guests of honor and a number of them will be called upon by Mrs. Malcolm Bradley French, club president, to entertain informally during the afternoon.

Debutante ushers for the affair include the Misses Evelyn Gould, Roberta Lee Halloran, Jane Badger, Muriel MacLaughlin, and Patricia Eames . . . Mrs. Harold Lang and Mrs. Cabot Jackson will have charge of the tea and Mrs. Ralph J. Gellnas, Mrs. A. C. Armstrong, and Mrs. Wendell Grey will assist E. Frank Leighton at the door.

Notre Dame's Penny Sale

Alumnae of the Boston Academy of Notre Dame will hold their annual penny sale on Saturday afternoon at the academy, 25 Granby st, under the general direction of Mary J. McCarthy of Brookline.

Muriel Kingsley of Milton and Marion Chiampa of Newton are co-chairmen, assisted by a committee including Elizabeth Dyer, Audrey Swendeman, Anna McCarthy, and Helen Kingsley.

Others serving on committees are Louise Robinston, Marguerite Driscoll, Helen McGovern, Cynthia Kingsley, Mrs. Alfred Smith, Mrs. Walter Berry, Mrs. John Quinn, Mary Sheehan, Irene Ryan, Mrs. Anthony S. J. Tomasello, Jr., June Hill, Patricia Beatty, Juan L'Ecuyer, Genevieve Reagan, Helen Meany and Katherine Cleary. Philip Viano of Jamaica Plain will be auctioneer.

Worcesters Wed in South

Since the bridegroom is soon to enter military service, the newlywed Mr. and Mrs James N. Worcester, Jr., of New York, have no definite plans for their future home.

The wedding of the couple took place Saturday at the Indian Creek Club, Miami Beach, where Col and Mrs. William Neal Campbell of Kennebunkport, Me., parents of the bride, are spending the winter.

The bride is the former Constance Virginia Campbell, a senior at Gatland School. She recently joined her parents at Miami Beach for her spring vacation and the bridegroom has left his studies at Yale preparatory to entering the service.

Attendants at the wedding included the bride's sister, Barbara Campbell and Penny Carr, who was flower girl. Henry James Griswold of Boston was best man and the ushers were William N. Campbell, Jr., brother of the bride, James French of Indianapolis and William Sterling of Detroit.

Tennis-Racquet Fete Planned

THE ONLY NIGHT of the year when ladies are allowed to enter the sacrosanct portals of the exclusively masculine Tennis and Racquet Club will be next Friday evening, which is designated as "Ladies' Night" . . . On that occasion the boys put on a special dinner and entertainment for their wives and sweethearts . . . and although many members are in service, and unable to attend, we hear that the 1942 party is to be something pretty grand.

Filling in the gap between studying seed catalogues and actually putting into practice the wealth of new garden ideas for 1942, members of the Beacon Hill Garden Club are busying themselves with putting on a benefit for the Navy Relief Society.

On March 20 they are presenting a lecture by Samuel Temple who will discuss the beautiful gardens of Mexico and show his colored slides, entitled "South of the Border" . . . Patronesses for the occasion include Mrs. Robert W. Emerson, Mrs. W. Stuart Fortes, Mrs. Ralph Hornblower, Mrs. Harold Pitman, Mrs. Edward Taft, Mrs. Oliver Andrews, Mrs. Frank Nichols, Mrs. William Dana Orcutt, Mrs. J. B. McKennan, Mrs. Frank A. Bourne, Mrs. Robert Cushman, Mrs. Whitney Hale and Miss Louise Condit.

Try This Old Home-Mixed Cough Relief. Surprising!

Child Could Make It. No Cooking. Big Saving.

You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, and in just a moment, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it can't be beaten.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in throat and bronchial irritations.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick relief, it's a wonder. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Nazi Freighter Scuttled Off Peru

Monserrate (left) Being Run Ashore While Leipzig Lists Badly

Blocked

Two pictures (above and right) tell the story of the scuttling of the German merchant ship Leipzig "somewhere off Peru." The Leipzig and a companion ship, the Monserrate, attempted to slip out of Callao with cargoes of cotton when it was feared they might be seized by the Peruvian government. Intercepted by a Peruvian cruiser, the ships were set afire by their crews . . . but Peruvians managed to beach the Monserrate. The Leipzig went down.

These men recaptured Rostov-on-Don, key city to Caucasus oil fields, and haven't taken a backward step since.

This interesting series of pictures was taken at the Newport Naval Training Station . . . and tells the story of the exit of New England boys from civilian life to that of the Navy, the new life they've chosen to help Uncle Sam fight the aggressors. On arriving at the station, the recruits are addressed by commanding officer, told what is expected of them . . . and the Navy's code. Comes next the uniform hair cut, the issuing of uniforms . . . followed by weeks of training. Completion of course finds the boys able seamen . . . ready for duty.

$20,771,606 for Massachusetts Bomber Campaign

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST

The Secretary of the Treasury, Washington

Mr. William Randolph Hearst, Wyntoon, McCloud, California.
Dear Mr. Hearst:

The "Buy a Bomber" campaign now being conducted by your newspapers parallels the plan whereby the people of certain cities have provided funds for military equipment by the purchase of Defense Bonds and Stamps.

The regular purchase of Defense Bonds and Stamps by every American is a program which gives each of us continual opportunities to strike added blows for freedom. Your newspapers are making a real contribution to this program.

—Sincerely, HENRY MORGENTHAU, Jr.

SECRETARY MORGENTHAU

Here's how to stipulate that your bonds are purchased in connection with the BUY BONDS FOR MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS campaign. You will find on the left-hand side of the green application blank, opposite where you write the name with which the bond is to be inscribed, the three words: "Buy for Defense." Immediately above this is a small space in which you can write, "Massachusetts Bombers Campaign." Write only in the space described. BUY BONDS FOR MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS. In this way your bonds will buy bombers in honor of Massachusetts. More than $20,771,606 already has been pledged. Story on Page 3.

OUR DAILY CITATION: To General Douglas MacArthur and all his valiant men in the Philippines. They need help from us NOW. Let us give it to them. Let it not be said in the future that we allowed MacArthur's Army to fall and be liquidated by the enemy.

IF CONGRESS and the Administration can ever catch up with the people we shall get somewhere in our all-out industrial offensive to save the country.

To hide their own shortcomings, dilly-dallying and fiddle-faddlings, Congressional and Administrative "leaders" in Washington have, over and over, hurled charges at the 135,000,000 people of this country of "complacency."

Here is the response of the people to that challenge. It comes from the latest poll (as of February 27) of the American Institute of Public Opinion:

"Should all men and women over 18 who are not already in military service be required to register with the government for some kind of civilian defense or war work?"

Yes	87 per cent
No	11 per cent
Undecided	2 per cent

That doesn't sound like "complacency" or "smugness" on the part of the people!

Commenting on this, the director of the Institute, says:

"The American public has been ahead of Congress at virtually every stage of the war up to Pearl Harbor and now shows evidence of being equally far ahead in its willingness to make sacrifices.

"If majority opinion in the past had been acted upon more often or more quickly some of the nation's present headaches might have been avoided.

"The public was, for example, at least five years ahead of Congress in voting for a bigger Army and Navy, and particularly for a bigger Air Force, surveys by the American Institute of Public Opinion show.

"Now there are indications that the American people may be ready to meet the supreme test of their spirit of sacrifice, a test on an issue which is perhaps the biggest the American democracy has ever had to face—total mobilization of the country's men and women, of its brain power, of its resources, for the single purpose of winning the war."

Here we have no question of Republicans or Democrats (Please take notice, Mr. Ed Flynn).

It means that an overwhelming majority of the people have sunk EVERY CONSIDERATION in their desire to achieve victory.

They will submit to TOTAL ORDERS for FREEDOM'S SAKE.

They offer themselves up as the great right arm of American liberty.

And they make NO QUALIFICATIONS OR RESERVATIONS OF ANY KIND.

That's DEMOCRATIC PATRIOTISM in SPIRIT and in ACTION.

The people do see farther into the future than their "leaders" in Washington.

That's because the people are NOT political-minded.

They are AMERICAN-MINDED first and last.

Never was real democracy more grandly triumphant than in this hour of America's trial by fire.

The people of Washington, Jefferson, Paine, Madison and Lincoln have COME THROUGH.

But what about the fiddle-faddlers in Washington?

INCOME TAXES are going to be paid more cheerfully and promptly this year than ever before.

There will be millions of Americans who will display the same patriotism as the young man in the uniform of the Air Corps who went to the Federal Building a few days ago and insisted on paying his tax, although the law permitted him to postpone the obligation until after the war.

Not every American can shoulder arms, enlist in the Army or fight with the Navy.

But every American with a job and wage can and should help raise the money that is needed to win this war.

By E. V. DURLING

Good Luck is the gayest of all gay girls.
Long in one place she will not stay.
Back from your brows she strokes the curls,
Kisses you quick and flies away.

But Madame Bad Luck soberly comes
And stays—no fancy has she for flitting;
Snatches of true love she hums
And sits by your bed and brings her knitting.

—JOHN HAY.

WHAT was the longest run of bad luck you ever had? I remember one two-year period when so many things went wrong in succession that the experience nearly floored me for keeps . . . When the poet Joyce Kilmer enlisted in 1917 he was 30 years old and the father of four children. Kilmer was killed in action at Ourcq, France, July 30, 1918. His best known poem, "Trees," was written in 1913 . . . As grounds for divorce, a Los Angeles woman complained that her husband woke their three-months-old baby at three in the morning and fed the infant pickled herring, bananas and salami! . . . There are many references to the unusual symmetry of limb possessed by Marlene Dietrich and Claudette Colbert, but how about Ginger Rogers? In addition to having been blessed by nature with very beautiful legs, Miss Rogers is generally better looking and a much more accomplished actress than either Marlene or Claudette.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—What is the origin of the terms "left" and "right" in reference to political views? A—In the French States-General the Bourgeois representatives sat on the left, the clergy in the center and the aristocracy on the right . . . Q—To decide a bet: is Market st., San Francisco, wider than Canal st., New Orleans? A—Market st., San Francisco is 120 feet wide; Canal st., New Orleans, is 176 feet wide . . . Q—Am from Deadwood, S. D. Ever know anybody from there? A—No, sir, never knew anybody from Deadwood, but I know a girl who was born in Toughnut st., Tombstone, Ariz. Very nice girl, too, and a highly efficient amanuensis . . . Q—Was there really a firm of New York lawyers named Ketchum and Cheatham? A — There really was. Kitty Cheatham, the brilliant actress of the yesteryear, was the daughter of one of the partners of this law firm.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: The first shot fired by the armed forces of the United States in World War I was fired by the Marines. On April 6, 1917, at Guam a U. S. Marine fired a rifle shot over the bow of a German cutter . . . Glad and Merry Tidings were the names of two charming sisters who attended the University of Missouri, alma mata of Bill Corum . . . The American record for length of time of living in the same apartment is held by Frank Murphy, Chicago lawyer, who lived in the same apartment in Evanston, Ill., for 38 years . . . "Know any poem about a girl named Mabel?" asks a Bostonian. Well, sir, there was Jack Hazzard's famous poem, "Ain't It Awful, Mabel," and Frank L. Stanton wrote one starting:

When Mabel sings, I tell you,
The world is all in tune,
You half forget December
And drink the sweets of June.

ASIDES: "Isn't it sickening the number of apartments that will not rent to people having children?" says a New York mother of three. It does seem there are too many of these types of apartments. Reminds me I recently saw a sign on an apartment house: "To rent—beautiful newly decorated apartment. No children. No dogs. No bachelors" . . . Scenes I would like to see in films: Lou Costello and Kate Smith in the balcony scene from Romeo and Juliet, and Greta Garbo as Baby Snooks . . . In England in cross-examination a witness is not asked: "What is your name?" but "What are your names?" My names are Edgar Vincent Durling.

SIDELIGHTS: Male twins are usually nice fellows but no male twin has ever achieved great fame . . . Jeanette MacDonald puts catsup on hot cakes . . . From the diary of Mark Twain under date of Jan. 1, 1904: "Lay abed nearly all day but wrote 3000 words earning $900."

BETTE DAVIS ADOPTS NEW HAIR-DO

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, March 10—Manhattan Glitter: Greer Garson, the redhead, dressed in shocking pink—delightful disobedience of a rule older than the law of gravity! . . . Deanna Durbin humming to Freddy Martin tunes at the Wedgewood Room . . . Walter Pidgeon making nine telephone calls (I counted 'em!) from a white leather booth in the Cotillion Room . . . Jimmy Walker and Georgie Jessel selling tickets for the Navy Relief show . . . Bette Davis, with a new hair-do . . . Jascha Heifetz nibbing delicacies at the Louis Quatorze . . . Merle Oberon flirting with radio scripts at Encore . . . Estelle Taylor inscribing a neat autograph for a sailor at Leon & Eddie's . . . Adelaide Moffett is sporting the darkest sunburn the town has seen since last August . . . William Saroyan threw away the noiseless typewriter they gave him at MGM because he said he couldn't work with a machine that "slithered like a snake." (You and me both, Will) . . . Maxine Barrat knocked four El Morocco customers off their chairs by crossing her knees to reveal black velvet garters ornamented with star sapphires . . . Broadwayites suggested any number of the "howling success" around town for use as air-raid sirens . . . Jackie Webb walked into the Beachcomber about two seconds after his colorful bride, Lenore Lemmon, meandered out—and the ringsiders breathed a sigh of relief . . . Damon Runyon's profile could once again be seen over a table in the Cub Room . . . Myrna Loy and Tyrone Power came to town.

THE MIDNIGHT SCENE: Jane Pickens bicycling on East 50th st., the shiny two-wheeler being a Valentine's Day present . . . Lanny Ross chuckling at the Savoy Plaza—over John Hoysradt's imitation of Lanny Ross. They went to Yale together . . . Ann Shirley and Alexis Thompson not going very many places without each other . . . Amon Carter, the Texas publisher, playing his nightly after-theater gin rummy game behind his self-created cloud of special brand stogie smoke . . . Charlie Butterworth at El Morocco with Whitney Bourne . . . Cliff Nazarro, the double-talk comedian, convulsing the writers at Lindy's when he orders a dinner of fiddlesticks with dwingels and staffneys on the side—"But well done," he insists.

FABLES FROM THE FIFTIES: Doris Duke Cromwell, whose Shangri La is in Hawaii, can be glimpsed around town eating nostalgic meals of Hawaiian food, in such places as this is procurable . . . Lew Jenkins, the boxer, has turned to songwriting on the side. Popped into the Hickory House a few nights ago with his first composition, and had Larry Bennett's orchestra play it. Title? "You'll Be Sorry," dedicated, he said, to his opponents . . . Irene Denham's new habit is David Lewis, the "Kings Row" producer . . . Since Sherman Fairchild started taking rhumba lessons he's lost 15 pounds, and the girls say he's a sensational terpsichorean . . . Jean Gabin has headed back for the Coast, which reminds me that I spent two hours in a gilded cabaret on a recent evening trying to figure out What All the Fuss Was About. There was Jean Gabin, at the next table, wearing one of those dark blue "thousand miler" shirts; a fellow with bumpy features and rumpled hair and swarthy skin. From now on you will not find me referring to Jean Gabin as "The French Spencer Tracy." Any resemblance between him and Spencer Tracy is purely wishful thinking.

A STONE'S THROW FROM BROADWAY: Reginald Gardiner and Eddie Dowling barnstorming at La Martinique . . . Pretty Carol Dexter, the golden-tressed singer at the Copacabana—a natural for the movies . . . Jimmy Durante, at the Hurricane, telling tall tales to Jimmy Ames . . . Peggy ("How Young You Look!") Wood shopping in a five and ten . . . Betty Field munching on milk and cookies at Kelly's Stable.

DEFINITION DEPARTMENT: A young actress who entertained at the American Theater Wing's canteen for men in service stayed afterward to dance with the boys, and was complimented on her performance by a soldier from Canada. "I enjoyed your monologue very much," he said. "But could you explain to me what you meant by the word 'corny'?" The girl did her best to define "corny," saw she was getting nowhere, and enlisted the assistance of a doughboy from Brooklyn. "Could you help me explain what 'corny' means?" she pleaded.

"Dat's easy," the doughboy grinned. "It means from Dixie wit' medals!"

THE POET'S YOU'RE A NAME—even if it's a slight [illegible] Robert Newton is [illegible] Lady Quarter . . . Newton is due [illegible] It would be easy to postulate that the [illegible] would be a good business getter [illegible] he drew last summer in a [illegible] the Westboro Town Hall and also at [illegible] Newton is not completely at ease in this [illegible] club appearance but the customers have been repaid, they seem to feel, by the mere sight of the star who made female hearts go pit-a-pat while [illegible] as John Gilbert was being described by Ina Claire as "a man of steel," and Ina Claire—in her first talking picture—was being described by a movie company (in huge billboards) as "the woman who won John Gilbert's heart." Remember? . . . There is no moral to this preamble, unless you conclude that an entente her exerts a compatable appeal in Westboro Cambridge and Boston.

S. JAY KAUFMAN, QUONDAM drama critic of The Morning Telegraph and brother of Harry Kaufman, producer of "Streets of Paris," "Hellzapoppin'," and other musical hits is press-agenting "Hellzapoppin'" . . . When Jay was sitting on the receiving side of a New York drama desk he was the most affable and obliging editor in the business.

THIS NEW VISIT OF "Hellzapoppin'" is much more auspicious than the visit in 1937, whose one had to pity poor Olie Olsen and Chic Johnson . . . The comedians alone had faith in the patched-up show which did such poor business at the Shubert Theater that its two-week run was curtailed to one . . . For a "production" which represented only a $5000 investment, Olie and Chick had sold production rights to this fabulous success, and throughout its long run on Broadway and in the hinterlands the comedians who gave jaded Broadway the then-new notion of "audience participation" enjoyed none of the profits.

WE HAD ALWAYS been skeptical of this story until Olie confirmed it when he was here a few months ago in "Sons O' Fun" . . . "This new show," he said, "will be operated differently in certain respects. You see, Chick and I own 50 per cent of it, and we only had our salaries and royalties in "Hellzapoppin'" . . . Nevertheless, out of those salaries and royalties they were able to buy a half-interest in "Streets of Paris," a show they created in order to launch their pals, Abbott and Costello, on the big time . . . "Streets of Paris" introduced Carmen Miranda, and the "Brazilian Bombshell" has followed up that association with Olsen and Johnson by starring in their new "Sons O' Fun."

ONE OF THE STAGE'S GREATEST STAR TRIOS
Carmen Miranda, Chic Johnson and Olie Olson

AS FOR EX-DRAMA CRITIC S. J. Kaufman's huge and now-lavish "Hellzapoppin'," which opens tonight at the Majestic, Jay C. Flippen is the principal star . . . Prominent, too, is Stephen Olsen, Olie's younger brother . . . The Charioteers is an act you didn't see in the original "Hellzapoppin'" (if you were one of the scattered few who saw the original production in Boston) . . . And The Charioteers is the sole featured act from "Hellzapoppin'" which will be permitted to "double" at a Boston night club . . . The Rio Casino signed them.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Belle Baker may be able to stage a dramatic surprise for her audience at tomorrow's weekly "Guest Night" at The Mayfair . . . Miss Baker does an effective recitative on George Gershwin, and the first song she mentions (and sings) is the Gershwin ditty "Swanee," which was popular after the first World War . . . Belle doesn't mention the name of the lyricist of that song, but—seeing that he is in town—there is no reason why she shouldn't rewrite the routine a bit and introduce him from the floor . . . The lyricist is Irving Caesar, producer of "My Dear Public" at the Colonial . . . Irving was Gershwin's first lyric writer . . . He left him to joint talents with another great composer, Vincent Youmans . . . "Tea for Two," "Sometimes I'm Happy" and "I Want to Be Happy" are a few of the tunes that fertile collaboration produced.

NEW BERGMAN FILM STARTS SOON

By Loudla O. Parsons

Ingrid Bergman

HOLLYWOOD, March 10—I'm going to make a little confession: If I were to write a fan letter to an actress I think it would go to Ingrid Bergman. She's such an amazingly warm personality and she was so good in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" (which wasn't so good for anyone else, including Spencer Tracy) that I've wondered why David Selznick didn't put her in another picture. The secret is David has been waiting until he starts his own pictures—and first, before anything starts rolling, even "The Keys of the Kingdom," he's starting the new Bergman picture.

Let me tell you about it: The story is "She Walks in Beauty," based on Henry James' novel, "Wings of a Dove" and it gives Ingrid a chance to show how versatile a talent she does so well.

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—You have a right to look forward to a summer with your complexion as radiant as Ann Rutherford's . . . but you must prepare for it before spring ever rolls around . . . Clearing your complexion of all winter's impurities and sluggish used-up cells with a marvelous corrective creamy masque Arline Gould describes today.

CREAMY MASQUE CLEARS SKIN, ERASES WRINKLES

By ARLINE GOULD

EVEN IF YOU'RE one of those super-cheerful souls who has come through a thoroughly disorganizing winter with a shred of good feeling and good looks left . . . there is surely a time of reckoning for your complexion, because even you haven't been able to offset every ill that's attacked it

Perhaps everything was just fine until the flu walked in . . . and now your skin is as lined and choked up with grime as though you were one of those dismal souls who just gave up and let atmospheric grime have its way with you.

You need a masque to do away with your share of wrinkles . . . quickly before they get you down. But more than that . . . you need a masque which will release your pores from the pall that's fallen on them and makes your skin look dull and old. To our knowledge there is only one masque which is a blemish clearer as well as a line-eraser. It is slightly medicated.

As a buy, it is unquestionably one of the best . . . because for one dollar you may have a large jar that'll do everything you could possibly require of it in a single spring time, even one as important as this.

It comes in two versions . . . one for dry skin, and one for oily or normal. They're both delightfully garden-fresh in scent . . . the one for dry skin is a lighter shade the one for oily skin is a rich, earthy brown But neither of them bears any relation to the outdated mud pack . . . and they're as pleasant and simple to use as the most innocuous cleansing cream

Through increased circulation, this creamy masque helps the removal of blackheads and refinement of pores When your skin is sluggish . . . which it is right now . . . it doesn't throw off the rough, used-up top layer of skin cells the way it should . . . and with every treatment the creamy masque sloughs them off to show the soft radiance beneath. Aside from its corrective and line-erasing effect, even one creamy masque treatment reveals a new brightness of the skin because it is actually cleared of imbedded impurities and top scale.

For complete information on it, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

• FOOD •

By Martha Lee

FROM THE FOOD angle, Lent is a time of adventure. You can experiment with souffles, fondues, au gratin and creamed dishes from very unusual materials, with all sorts of combinations and seasonings, and make very pleasing surprise dishes They all have all one thing in common, however, they need fresh eggs be it fish, cheese, or vegetables you use for the main ingredient. Take a codfish omelet for instance.

CODFISH OMELET

1 1-3 cups canned or cooked codfish flakes
4 egg yolks
Few grains pepper
1 tsp. salt
4 egg whites

Beat egg yolks, add codfish flakes, salt and pepper. Mix well. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a hot greased frying pan. Cook over low heat until set and browned on the bottom. Put into a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for a few minutes to dry out the top. Fold omelet and serve immediately.

A kidney bean cheese souffle combines everyday ingredients to make a grand main dish.

KIDNEY BEAN CHEESE SOUFFLE

2 cups canned or cooked kidney beans
Few grains cayenne
1 tsp salt
1 cup grated cheese
2 tbsp. ketchup
4 egg yolks
4 egg whites

Press the kidney beans through a coarse sieve. Add grated cheese, salt, cayenne, ketchup and beaten egg yolks. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased baking dish; bake in a moderate oven (325 deg. F.) about 1 hour, or until set. Serve immediately.

TOMATO SQUAW CORN

Aside from the fact that vegetables have a pleasing taste, they are of nutritional importance, for they contain minerals and vitamins. Combined with eggs, they have everything needed for a delicious main dish Asparagus au gratin is one of these, and any fresh green winter vegetable may be substituted for the canned variety

ASPARAGUS AU GRATIN

1 can asparagus tips, or cut asparagus
3 tbsp fat
4 tbsp. flour
2 hard-cooked egg yolks
½ tsp. salt
Few grains pepper
Milk
1 cup grated cheese
Buttered crumbs

Drain liquid from asparagus tips and save. Mash the egg yolks and blend with the fat and flour, salt, and pepper. Measure asparagus liquid and add enough milk to make 2 cups. Add gradually to the egg, fat and flour and cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Add cheese, stir until melted. Arrange asparagus tips in the bottom of a greased casserole or individual baking dishes; pour over the sauce. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 20 minutes. Garnish with slices of hard-cooked eggs.

TOMATO SQUAW CORN

½ lb. bacon
¼ cup sliced onion
2½ cups whole kernel corn (1 No. 2 can)
2½ cups cream style corn (1 No. 2 can)
1½ cups tomatoes
2 eggs
½ tsp. salt
Parsley

Leave three whole strips of bacon for top decoration. Cut remainder into small pieces and fry until a golden brown. Remove bacon to brown paper; fry onions in bacon grease until brown. Drain whole kernel corn. Place corn, tomatoes, well beaten eggs, salt, and onion in a well greased 1½ quart heat resistant glass baking dish. Add bacon and about 2 tablespoons grease. Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Place the remaining bacon strips across the top, and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for about 45 minutes. Garnish with parsley and serve. Makes about 5 servings.

CURFEW!

The considerate young man visitor asks a girl at what hour her folks expect guests to leave. If he doesn't ask, a tactful young girl tells him: "You'll really have to go. Dad's orders."

Fashion

BEFORE AND AFTER . . . with picture proof . . . is a breath-takingly interseting beauty story no matter how often it's told. This is Mrs. Frederick W. Watts, Jr., of Cambridge, who, dissatisfied with her appearance in general, did that most admirable of things . . . successfully completed a home course based on a famous salon course . . . and with the aid of self-monitored exercises, diet, beauty routines and dramatics pointers literally changed her entire appearance, and outlook as well! For instance, from 143 pounds to 120 pounds. She's an entrant in a "Mrs. Massachusetts" contest for the home course students. Write or phone me for the name of the course or news of the contest program, which is sponsored by a Boston shop.—ANNICE BRINK.

SUITS GAY, EVEN GAUDY IN NEW SPRING STYLES

By BETTINA BEDWELL

SUITS in colors that are gay and sometimes downright gaudy are signs that spring styles are beginning to bloom along the streets and avenues of the U. S. A. They are intended to keep your morale flying high and also to flatter your personal landscape. A good many suits come in bright red, or in an equally vivid green, or they may be any other strong and lusty shade. With such bright suits, you're supposed to wear a hat and other accessories in a single dark or soft color, though there's no law about it. Or when April comes, such suits will be flanked with printed details.

The bright suit with an easy box jacket and a pleated skirt is one of the smartest and most becoming. Like the Maria Krum model sketched. This suit comes in gay persimmon red shantung, and the box pleated skirt is stitched to below the hiplines to slim that section of the body. The box jacket has big patch pockets and tailored revers and collar.

A tailored blouse of pastel blue silk shantung is worn with the skirt and jacket. It has a patch pocket with your monogram.

The Masked Jury

A GIRL IN LOVE

FIANCE SEES OTHER WOMAN

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY: A few months ago I met a young man with whom I have fallen in love. He was going with another girl at the time but since we met he said he doesn't want to go out with her any more.

I told him to forget me if he still cared for her, but he said that although he had been seeing her often, he only liked her as a sister. He usually took this girl to church one night a week, to a show another and skating still another night. I have found out he has still been taking her to these places, even though he told me he has informed this girl he didn't want to go out with her any more.

Before he started going with me he asked me if I would double-cross him and go out with someone else on the side. I promised him I wouldn't and I stopped going out with another friend at once. The other day I spoke to a fellow who pals around with this boy.

I told him that I didn't think I was getting a fair deal and he claimed my young man doesn't want to go out with the other girl and is trying to drop her gradually. But I still don't think this is very fair to me. My question is:

Do you think I should try to forget him?—PUZZLED.

HOW THE JURY VOTED
Women: Yes, five; no, one.
Men: Yes, four; no, two.

FACTORY WORKER (woman): Yes. That fellow is trying to work both sides of the street at the same time.

SAILOR: Yes. She better forget him if she's counting on him for a sure thing. She's just No. 2 on that list.

HAT MAKER (woman): Yes. A girl shouldn't take a fellow like that seriously. A fellow who really falls for a girl falls all at once.

CLERK: Yes I never thought I'd be advising a girl to forget somebody, but I'm in the same boat myself with two girls.

SALESGIRL: No. I would first give him a chance to speak for himself and then I'd let him worry for awhile.

FRUIT DEALER: Yes. If a young fellow can't make up his mind any better than that she is well rid of him.

GARMENT WORKER (woman): Yes. He is making a fool out of her and she should start going out with others.

SOLDIER: Yes. If she can turn her forgetting machine on and off that easy it can't be very serious anyway.

TELEPHONE OPERATOR: Yes She should either forget him or find out what it's all about SALES CLERK: No. Maybe he is trying to break away from the other girl and is a little sensitive about it.

ELEVATOR OPERATOR (woman): Yes. Fellows who want girls to stop going out with other boys and then run around themselves aren't worth remembering.

EXPRESS SHIPPER: No. Sometimes a guy gets involved that way and can't break away so easy. She should give him a chance.

Invitations Plus Cards

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

In sending wedding invitations to relatives and close friends who live at a distance that makes it impossible to attend, is it correct to enclose a card to the reception? Wouldn't it look too much as if you were asking for a present?

R. E.

When formal invitations are sent out, they should be sent to all relatives and close friends, whether or not you think it possible for them to come to the wedding. The card to the reception should be enclosed with the invitation to the ceremony.

Don't consider these reception invitations as asking for a gift. The right point of view is to think of the invitation as a bow from you to your friend, "I'm going to be married, and of course I want you to receive this invitation to the ceremony and to the reception. I hope that by some good fortune you can be with us on this day."

Leave it to your relative or friend to accept or regret.

WEDDING RECEPTION MENUS

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

My daughter is being married in church at four o'clock and we are planning to have a small, informal reception at our house immediately after the ceremony. Would you please give me some suggestions as to what I should serve? K. S.

If you will send me an addressed, stamped envelope, I shall be glad to mail you my pamphlet on "What to Serve at the Wedding Reception," which suggests the simplest menus and more elaborate ones.

Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
Tuesday, March 10, 1942

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—You of this birth date are studious; friendly in disposition; sincere, truthworthy, usually sound in theory and judgment. Inclined to be inactive and lack consistent ambition. Should be encouraged, urged forward by those who have your real interest at heart. Periodically remind yourself that you are the possessor of great possibilities, not only with which to be satisfied, but to develop and really work with toward great achievement. Don't worry, forge ahead!

LUCKY NUMBER—5.

LUCKY COLOR—Copper.

Things to Know About Our Navy

In 1775 Congress appropriated $100,000 for an American Navy. In 1942 we have appropriated at one stroke more than $26,000,000,000!

These figures tell a mighty rise in naval power, in ships and personnel, that's fascinating to read about—whether you're a homebound civilian or thinking of joining up.

AMERICAN WARSHIPS OLD AND NEW

Chances for good men in the Navy are many. Our 40-page booklet on the Navy, prepared by Boston Evening American, tells Navy requirements for officers and men; training, pay and chances for promotion.

Worried About Her Marine

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

SOME WEEKS AGO this column carried a story about the Marines at Quantico and, as reported, it seemed to this observer that conditions could not be improved upon.

Marines who find themselves at this long-established base must feel the way Americans, in the good old days, were said to feel about Paris—that they had gone to heaven.

Since that story about Quantico saw print, I've been getting letters from people with sweethearts, sons, husbands and brothers in the Marine Corps who ask how their particular Marine can be transferred to Quantico. A good deal of needless worry, it seems to me, exists about other Marine bases. Things aren't as lacking in comfort in these lesser havens as some of my correspondents seem to think.

Take this letter from a girl who's staying awake at night worrying over her fiance:

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

"The boy I expected to marry right after Easter is with the Marines, and I hear they treat them terribly during the quarantine period. For the first three weeks away from home they're kept apart from the other men. Even if nothing is the matter with them, they must feel like lepers.

"They're not allowed to go to the postoffice except to drop a letter in the slot, and they can't go to the stores. They are allowed, however, to see the regular movies shown at the post, and to take books from the library. They also attend the regular boxing matches. But what they miss most is contact with the other men. Please don't think Bill, my fiance, has been grouching. I haven't heard of these things from him but from a friend of his who said downright fighting was fun but quarantine was h—. I just can't sleep at night worrying over Bill. "HIS GIRL."

This letter shows nothing more than the anxiety every girl must feel about her fiance in any branch of the service. Measles, chicken pox, mumps may seem a little more than nursery ailments. But imagine the havoc these infections would create if they were to break out in a post where there are several thousand men.

Girls with fiances in the Marine Corps must bear in mind that these fighting sailors have to pass even a stricter health test than men entering the Army and Navy. Look at the account the Marines gave of themselves at Wake.

Pinza Will Sing Three Roles Here

Ezio Pinza, the Met Opera's great basso whose "Don Giovanni" has won him the sobriquet "Don Juan of the Met," will be heard as Don Bonsilio in "Barber of Seville" during the company's local engagement at the Metropolitan Theater, March 19 to 28.

"Barber" is to be given on Saturday evening, March 21. Pinza will also be heard as Colline in "La Boheme" on Wednesday evening, March 25, and as Mephistopheles in "Faust" on Saturday afternoon, March 28.

Pinza has sung more than 60 roles, comic, opera bouffe villain and romantic, since he has been with the Metropolitan Opera Co., and has been frequently described by music critics as "the fully realized hero of 19th century romanticism." In a recent nationwide poll of the 14 most glamorous men in the world, the Met basso led them all.

Which may surprise his opera fans, for his tall, dark, striking handsomeness is usually hidden under putty noses, whiskers, wrinkles, pop pot bellies and flowing gowns.

Opening Tonight

"The New Hellzapoppin," which is almost 80 per cent new since it had its pre-Broadway unveiling here four years ago, opens at the Majestic Theater tonight with Jay C. Flippin and Happy Felton in the roles created by Olsen and Johnson, who are also co-producers with the Shuberts. Edward Duryea Dowling, general director for the Shuberts, is in town directing the setting up and rebuilding of the stage necessary to the massive production.

Spy-Thriller At Normandie

"Paris Calling," an excellent spy-thriller with Elizabeth Bergner giving a sensational performance in her first made-in-Hollywood picture, and "Babes On Broadway," the Mickey Rooney-Judy Garland boxoffice smash, are presently unreeling on the Normandie screen. This is a first-rate buy for the money.

'Watch on Rhine' Seats in Demand

Preceded by a heavy advance sale indicating a capacity engagement, tickets are now on sale at the Colonial box office for "Watch On the Rhine," Lillian Hellman's prize-winning drama, which opens a two-week engagement at that theater on Monday evening.

Lucile Watson, Paul Lukas, Mady Christians, George Coulouris and John Lodge, and the rest of the original cast which performed on Broadway for more than 11 months will bring the New York drama critics'-award play to Boston under Herman Shumlin's aegis.

"Watch On the Rhine" is a drama of tense contemporary importance, dealing with the awakening of an American family to the dangers threatening its liberty. The locale is Washington, D. C., where the company recently played a "command performance" before the President and a distinguished audience for the benefit of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

Premiere on Colonial's Stage

By PEGGY DOYLE

If it proves anything "My Dear Public," which last night introduced song writer-librettist Irving Caesar as a producer to Colonial first-nighters, proves that the author of "Tea for Two," "Just a Gigolo," "Is It True What They Say About Dixie" and other memorable tunes is still clicking in the flats and sharps department.

"My Dear Public" is neither musical, revue nor good, red herring. It is long on slick songs but short on comedy. It has brought some distinctly gifted young people out of New York's smarter supper-clubs but it does not always employ their talents to the fullest.

Its major contribution to the season, in addition to some delightful song numbers of which more anon, is the discovery of a sensational young dancer, Miriam LaVelle, whose Tanagralike beauty and eye-widening skill are a natural for a neon-lighted future.

• • •

Featured players are Mitzi Green, who some seasons back carried the entire burden of the unfortunate "Three After Three" on her slim shoulders; Joe Smith and Charles Dale, whom you doubtless recall as vaudeville's Smith and Dale; John Buckmaster, British actress Gladys Cooper's talented son who has become the joy of Manhattan's entertainment-seeking sophisticates; Tamara, of "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" fame, and the screen's competent comedienne, Cora Witherspoon.

Smith is cast as a Broadway producer and reads a program footnote, "any living producer claiming resemblance to Barney Short will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law." That item, incidentally, is brighter than any of the dialogue which wastes time at the start getting across the idea that Short is flattered because he's told he speaks prose.

It's young John Buckmaster who tells him in the course of trying to sell him his play script. When the newspapers a few days later play up the fact that the playwright is dying of starvation because he can't get a producer to put on his plays.

• • •

To capsule it to you, Producer Short, or Smith, buys the script after satisfying himself that the playwright will die before it goes into production, he will be spared author nuisance and he will have collected on the newspaper publicity accorded the now acknowledged genius.

The producer buys the play, the author instantly recopies and the producer-puncher later taxes to a hospital cot. Except when Caesar's delightful song numbers were being sung and particularly when Miss Witherspoon was acting too much like a wife the going was tedious.

The Revuers, two girls and three men, who have developed quite a New York night-club following since their modest start in one of the minor bistros, sang two of their own original specialties, "We Had a Show" and "Baroness Bazooka" particularly well. Both have wit and bit.

The Revuers and the audience have the most fun with the song, "Variety," which parodies that amusement bible's theatre critic six pix" style of literature.

The Martins, who wrote the music for "Best Foot Forward" and were seen here in "The Lady Comes Across," have a number, "My Spies Tell Me," which has laughs and melody. They also team up with The Revuers and others for the first-act opener, "My Dear Public."

More skits like "Laugh It Off" to break up the continuity of songs would take "My Dear Public" out of the whattizzit classification. John Frank is the sedate narrator for "Laugh It Off," with deadpan Kitty Mattern stooging with the appropriate laughs to illustrate the lecture John Buckmaster's satiric specialties also rate more generous spotting in the show.

RAY MILLAND is beginning to suspect that Paulette Goddard, the girl he loves in "The Lady Has Plans," may be a Mata Hari—Paramount's new mystery-comedy is scheduled to have its New England premiere at the Metropolitan Theater on Thursday.

'Tobacco Road' Returns; Barton Plays Jeeter Role

By HARRIS MORGAN

"Tobacco Road," Jack Kirk[land's] best-seller, was back again last [night] for a brief engagement and Jo[hn] Barton's 1850th performance as Jeeter Lester.

At this late date, it is hardly necessary to report that "Tobacco Road" is not to be recommended to [the] squeamish, if any. A reminder [is] in order that this stark, squalid tragedy of the Georgia back-country is frequently and vividly highlighted by stretches of authentic, full bodied humor is not amiss.

Don't stop us if you've heard it—more than 7,000,000 people have seen "Tobacco Road"—for we insist on sketching in briefly the plot for those in the congregation to whom it is virgin territory.

As you doubtless know, Kirkland's adaptation is based on Erskine Caldwell's grim novel concerning the indolent, larcenous Jeeter Lester, his slattern wife and their brood. They've all got plenty [of] items in the Lester's family history that do not bear repeating in a family newspaper.

The Hays-censored film version of "Tobacco Road" is a patch on the novel's terrifying, frequent [hi]larious antics that alternately shocked and amused last night's opening performance audience.

Window Plunge Kills Woman, 80

Miss Henrietta Bremer, 80-year-old resident of a rental room apartment in Upton st., South End, plunged to her death from a bedroom window today.

A neighbor, Patrick Colter, discovered her body prone on the sidewalk. She was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital.

Friends said Miss Bremer was recovering from an attack of pneumonia and, upon arising, was seized with a fainting spell as she approached her window to close it.

Edison Beacon Out, But Eternal Light Continues to Burn

MENLO PARK, N. J., March 10 (INS)—The 9500-watt beacon atop the Edison Memorial Tower of Light was extinguished today for the duration to save electricity. It had burned nightly since the tower was dedicated on Feb. 11, 1938.

The eternal light, designed to represent Thomas A. Edison's original incandescent lamp, will continue to burn in a plate-glass case at the base of the 131-foot tower.

Turning the Other Cheek Suicide Pact

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

We are fed up on the gentle Jennies who are slobbering sweetness and light.

Folks, the history of totalitarianism proves that turning-the-other-cheek is a suicide pact.

The gentle Jennies and the conscientious objectors may refuse to carry water in a prairie fire but they do not surrender their privilege of running when it gets too hot.

We are through with the Quislings who claim revenge is contraband and that it is okay to shake hands with a stab in the back.

P. S. The innocent bystander is a man without a country. From now on we fish, chop bait or go ashore.

What Does 1942 Hold for Dom and Lou?

SARASOTA, Fla., March 10 — Dom DiMaggio and Lou Finney were late in signing this year and didn't accompany the Red Sox on their two-day junket to Miami.

They remained home with Jimmie Foxx, Jim Tabor, Bobby Doerr and Pitchers Joe Dobson, Yank Terry, Dick Newsome and Lefty Judd.

They got their fill of batting practice under Coach Tom Daly, and were prepared to start on even terms with their mates as the Sox played their first Sarasota exhibition game today with the Yankees.

DiMaggio and Finney hit in the .280's last year but no two outfielders ever arrived at that figure by such different routes.

Lou Finney

Dom DiMaggio

Finney was a sensation during the exhibition game season. DiMaggio was in difficulty all spring. His hands were tender, and he couldn't grip a bat tightly enough to use his full power. But just before the bell rang, Finney's luck changed. He was hitting, but he was hitting line drives at the outfielders..

As a result, he had a batting average of .170 at June 1. DiMaggio, on the other hand, started whaling the daylights out of the ball when the A. L. bell rang and was up in the .360's when Finney was scrambling for a basehit.

Lou's luck changed shortly after June 1. It is to his credit that he never stopped trying, kept insisting he'd get straightened out. He did, hitting some .323 from June 1 until the season closed.

* * *

Played Late Season With Bad Ankle

DI MAGGIO, after his flying start, suffered a series of injuries in mid-summer, first to his toe, then to his arm. At one time he was playing with his right arm black and blue from shoulder to wrist.

Instead of taking a week or two off, he kept his injuries to himself. His batting dropped off sharply, and though he got better as the season waned he didn't have time to climb to the .300 mark again.

It was different in 1940, Dom's first year down here. He maimed an ankle on March 7 and was out so long he didn't crash the lineup regularly until July 6.

While he was sitting on the bench that year, Finney was leading the league with a fancy .380 average, and didn't slump until late season when he tried to play with a bad ankle.

Then he dropped down to .320, where he finished the season; DiMaggio meanwhile kept up a steady .300 clip, finishing one point above that magic mark.

So here the pair are on the threshold of another season. What's in store for them?

"Tell you one thing," says Dom grimly. "If I don't hit well this season it won't be because I'm not in condition. I took it too easy winter before last and was soft when I reported. My hands were blistered all spring.

"I was determined that never would happen again, and so this past winter I worked out in a gym just enough to keep fit, went to bed before 11 each night, and feel better than I ever did at spring camp."

Finney is never out of condition. He has a 175-acre plantation in Alabama, and there is so much work to do that he's up at six every morning, laboring away until sundown.

"Feel great," he smiled today. "Just keep that Harry Craft away from me, and I'll be all right. That guy's a jinx."

(Craft of the Reds took three triples away from Finney in Owensboro, Ky., one day last spring, and Finney's bad luck lasted until June.)

So it will be of interest to see what these outfield partners hit this season, and how each arrives at that figure. Surely no two men ever took such widely separated routes to their respective .300 and .280 marks of the past two years.

Foxx Sports Rip on Index Finger

THE SOX have exhibition games with the Yankees here today, Reds here tomorrow, Senators here Friday and Cleveland at Clearwater on Saturday. They will play the Reds in Tampa next Sunday and return here for a Monday game with the Giants. Not much rest from now until September.

Red Walsh, husky 21-year-old catcher from Exeter, N. H., joined the Sox here over the week-end, working out under Tommy Daly while the Sox were in Miami. The kid is attached to the Louisville club which reports tomorrow and which plans to use him at third base this year. Last year Red looked like a fine young catching prospect but suffered an injury just before Louisville's season started, and finally was shipped to Canton, a Class C farm club in the Mid-Atlantic League. Red has a throwing arm which compares favorably with Gabby Hartnett's in the latter's palmy days, and he can hit the ball for plenty of distance.

Mose Grove was 42 over the week-end, and it was the first time since 1920 he didn't spend his birthday at a training camp . . . Jimmy Foxx looked at a rip on the index finger of his left hand, and said, "That means I'm in shape. Whenever I get my sights trained on the ball, that finger splits. If I don't tape it, it will split right back to the first knuckle." Foxx is laying into the ball with tremendous vigor, and the boys are saying he will beat Ulysses Lupien out for the first base job before May 15.

Yank Terry, 26-game winner in the Coast League last season, was scheduled to make his second Red Sox appearance against the Yankees here this afternoon . . . The likable Indianan gave only one hit in three frames in an intra-squad game last Friday, and Paul Waner of the Braves got that one, a triple down the first base line.

BRUINS PLAY 'POSITION' AGAINST HAWKS TONIGHT

A little matter of the possibility of advancing all the way to the final round of the Stanley Cup playdowns evolves around the tussle between the Bruins and Black Hawks at Boston Garden tonight.

Perhaps it seems strange to place so great an importance on the coming affair down at the depot, but the facts point out from the performances of the Ross men and the Hawks down this home stretch, makes it very evident that tonight is the night.

Here's the situation:

The Bruins now have a three point edge and a game in hand on their Chicago rivals. If the Bruins win tonight, they go five points out in front. Since the Hawks will have only two games remaining, the Bruins will mathematically clinch third.

If the Bruins tie, they will have to pick up another tie or win from Toronto Rangers or Americans, provided that the Thompson gang win their two remaining games.

HOME ICE ADVANTAGE

Now, if the Hawks win, they move within one point of the B's and that's dangerous for it's a pretty good bet that they will be beaten by the Rangers and Maple Leafs away from home and the lone remaining game against the Americans is even going to be tough for the Dutchmen as have been treating the Bruins like cousins in their last four encounters.

Let's keep going hypothetically.

If the Bruins can beat the Hawks tonight it will give them a real lift for Chicago is the club they meet in the first round of the Stanley Cup play in two weeks.

By finishing third the Bruins will be able to have two of the three games on their home ice and this would be quite an advantage.

HUB JINX FOR WINGS

By stretching this first series Bill Cowley would be available, and the best playmaker in the game isn't going to hurt the Bruins any.

With Cowley and two games at home, the Bruins could very easily eliminate Chicago and tangle with the Detroit-Canadiens winner. Here again, the B's would be in good shape. According to figures they would play Detroit two out of three with two games here in Boston.

And, since Detroit hasn't won a game on Boston ice since December 7, 1937 18 straight games—it's not wild thinking to visualize, the Bruins heading into the finals to play the winner of the Rangers-Maple Leaf series for the title.

So, you see there is quite a bit of importance attached to this game tonight. Both clubs are really going to go all out and it may be a game well worth seeing.

Tigers Angling With Newsom, York as Bait

ORLANDO, Fla., March 10 (AP) — Trade winds fanned around the camp of the Senators today with the Tigers [illegible] to promote a deal that would get some of their problem children off their hands.

Clark Griffith of the Senators said emphatically that he would not agree to give up his promising young first baseman, Jim Vernon, and veteran pitcher, Elmo Leonard for Detroit's Buck Newsom and Rudy York.

But the Old Fox" has never been hesitant about changing his mind and a little shuffling of some other aspects of the deal, like throwing in an extra player or cash, might sway the transaction.

There also was talk today that the Senators might have something in common with the Yankees, who would find either Vernon or Leonard useful, and besides they have become impatient with their holdout third baseman, Red Rolfe.

Washington would like to have Rolfe and also [illegible] interested in Marv Owen, veteran outfielder of the Yanks.

York would [illegible] the Senators much needed batting power and Newsom [illegible] certainly would [illegible] next season as [illegible] a couple of [illegible] for any [illegible] because of their [illegible] to salaries misses the Tigers are making no secret of their efforts to put through a trade.

Detroit also has placed Catcher Billy Sullivan [illegible] of five holdouts on the list.

COWLEY READY FOR TEST

Because of the weather, the Bruins were grounded yesterday and unable to fly home from Detroit. They took the 4:53 train and arrived here early this morning. This loss of day did not rest any too well with Art Ross who figured that his tired club could have used that extra day at home . . . There is talk that Cowley may see a bit of action tonight but there has been no definite announcement from the Bruins yet . . . Bill has been working out for two weeks and the special helmet is ready but he is still weak and, if he should appear, it will be for very brief intervals and not more than two or three times. The purpose will be to get him back into playing shape for Stanley Cup clashes.

* * *

Eddie Wiseman suffered a charley horse in the Detroit game Sunday and may not play tonight. His loss would really hurt for he has steadied his unit, Roy Conacher and Jack McGill, to such an extent that it is now the Bruins' best line. If Eddie is out, "Busher" Jackson may be moved up to that right wing spot and Clare Martin will take over "Busher's" defense post.

(Wide World Sports)

The metropolitan basketball tournament, competing for talent with the N. C. A. A., may not get the best college teams, but it's doing right well with colorful individuals . . . Already lined up are Rhode Island's Stutz Modzlewski, who has scored 1714 points in four seasons, Price Brookfield of West Texas, with 1649, and Bob Gerber, who rang up 467 for Toledo this year.

Merv Shea, the Tigers' coach, has won all sorts of prizes playing golf this spring but Mrs. Shea's isn't satisfied. "Look," she said one day, "don't they ever put up mink coats as prizes?"

Can't give names and dates on this one, but some of the college boxing coaches claim it happened . . . Seems there was a small college that specialized in fisticuffing . . One season it came up with a good team led by a heavyweight who looked like a cinch to win the national intercollegiate title . . . But he never did. An unscrupulous rival dug up the rule that each fighter had to sign his entry blank —and the heavyweight couldn't write.

Trainer John Gaver says he had no idea of entering The Rhymer in the Widener Handicap until he learned Eddie Arcaro was free, then he decided to take a "shot at the moon" . . . The Japanese submarine that shelled the California coast recently fired Head Coach Stanley Williamson of Santa Barbara Junior College right into the Navy . . . The school decided to drop all athletics so Stanley got a commission in the Naval Reserve.

Father Flanagan reports that every one of his Boy's Town kids plans to register to play baseball March 30 when the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress holds its national registration day . . . Ward Lambert, Purdue's basketball coach, gets a free dinner tonight for having been able to survive 25 seasons of Big Ten basketball.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

John P. Carmichael, Chicago Daily News: "Joe Louis knocks out Abe Simon . . . Lem Franklin knocks out Simon . . . Bob Pastor, who lost twice to Louis, knocks out Franklin . . . So Louis and Simon fight again for the championship . . . Try that on your baby grand!"

SPORTPOURRI

Jimmy Dykes, the man with the big cigars, decided to do his spring training by smoking only a pipe. And the first day in camp he mislaid the pipe . . . Another basketball record is claimed for Robert Edwards, Shoals (Ind.) High School guard. He tried a pass the full length of a 75-foot court and saw it bounce off the backboard for a field goal

Wallace Wade, the Duke grid coach, may go back into the Army as a major. He was a captain during the last war . . . Louisville should have a well-managed ball club this year. Manager Bill Burwell will have two ex-managers of other clubs, Red Kress and Lee Riley, working for him.

POSTMAN'S PARAGRAPH

Perfectly willing to start an argument, Sports Ed Jesse Linthicum of the Baltimore Sun suggests that Maryland is the nation's champion home run state. He lists among its products J. Franklin (Home Run) Baker, Babe Ruth, Joe Hauser, the old Oriole first baseman who made the minor league mark of 63, seven other Orioles who hit more than 100 homers in the International League, Jimmy Foxx and the newest candidate for swatting honors, the Cubs' Bill Nicholson.

SILVER B. U. CAPTAIN

Joe Silver of Hillsdale, N. J., has been elected captain of next season's Boston University varsity basketball team.

'Strangler' May Retire If He Loses

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, will probably retire if he should drop a decision to Chief Osley Saunooke when the pair clash in the feature match at the Arena tomorrow night.

Lewis hopes to gain another crack at the champion, The Angel, if he whips the Cherokee Indian.

But in looking forward to The Angel, Lewis may be making a huge mistake. Saunooke is nobody's pushover, as he has proven on many occasions in Boston rings, and he himself thinks he is in line for a title shot. With both men in the same frame of mind, it should lend to make it a merry evening.

CHIEF HOLDS WEIGHT EDGE

Saunooke for one thing will outweigh the Strangler by over 25 pounds with his immense gross of 300 or better. This is a vital matter, especially, if the bout becomes one of those stalemates after an hour and the boys go on to a finish. In that case, 25 pounds of weight is a very nice thing to have on your side. It's like having that many more men than the enemy when the going gets tough.

Regardless of who wins this bout, The Angel has an immediate challenger on his hands. Both men, depending upon victory, of course, have stated that they will challenge the champion immediately.

GERMAINE VS. CORTEZ

In the semi-final Dr. John "Dropkick" Murphy of Malden will tangle with "Sliding Bill" Hansen of Salt Lake City while a special match brings together "Rowdy" Rudy LaDitzi of Poughkeepsie and Lee Henning of Australia.

Preliminaries will include Ted Germaine of South Boston vs. Manuel Cortez of Spain and Hans Kampfer of Pittsburgh vs. Tom Casey of Ireland.

VETERAN SEES SLOW DEATH FOR BASEBALL

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 10 (AP)—A slow death for baseball—even in the Major Leagues if the war continues long enough—is feared by a club owner who has devoted half a century to the game.

R. G. (Colonel Bob) Allen, nearing his 75th birthday and his 28th year as a Southern Association club owner, recalled that all Minor Leagues except the International disbanded during the first World War. Then the president of the Knoxville club commented about the future of the game which he has followed actively since 1887

"I'm afraid this war is likely to have a different effect. Instead of losing men all at once, we will be losing them by dribbles. If and when the manpower of the clubs is gone, baseball will have to suspend operations but we have an idea that it will take some time to do that.

"We have more clubs in operation and more players to be fed to clubs of higher classifications. The smaller minors will be the first to die a slow death and if the war lasts long enough, it will eventually reach the majors, I'm afraid."

BACKSTRETCH BREVITIES

By Associated Press

Tropical Park opened its spring racing session with three favorites coming through to make the 8814 spectators happy.

Scotch Trap got off to a slow start but closed fast to catch Halcyon Boy and win the feature. Halcyon Boy had set the early pace. G. W. Peak's six-year-old gelding paid $28.60 for $2 while Halcyon Bay was worth $5.40. Displayer annexed third place, shunting the favored Grey Wolf to fourth.

The winner covered the six furlongs in 1:12 1-5.

Attendance at the inaugural program was approximately 3000 less than the comparable day last year, but the number of horses was more than double that of the 1941 starting program.

A total of 251 horses of the 382 originally entered in the eight-event program were unable to start.

Some of the Florida track congestion will be eliminated shortly. Many owners intend to send their animals north as soon as they have assurance the winter definitely is over.

The Rhymer, Mrs. Payne Whitney's surprise winner of the $50,000 Widener, will remain in the Flamingo state for the Coral Gables mile and furlong handicap next week-end.

That race is expected to give Market Wise and Mioland a chance to redeem themselves for the Hialeah Park defeat.

Apprentice Jimmy Berger, whose contract recently was purchased by the veterain trainer Jack Whyte, is 17 years old and a native of Louisville. He has ridden more than 100 winners and was the leading rider last year at Lincoln Fields and in Kentucky.

Jimmy, now riding at Tropical Park, will accompany the Whyte string of 17 to New England following the close of the Miami racing campaign.

Step By, W. A. Osborne's 7-year-old gelding splashed to victory in the $800 Moody Hotel purse at Oaklawn yesterday, finishing three lengths in front of J. K. Houssel's favored Omelet.

The time for the sloppy mile and a sixteenth was 1:50. The winner pa'd $8.90.

Holcomb Gets Miami Berth

OXFORD, O., March 10 (AP)—Stuart Holcomb, 32-year-old football and track coach at Washington and Jefferson College, Wash., Pa., today was appointed head football coach at Miami University here.

Holcomb's appointment was announced by Merlin A. Ditmer, director of intercollegiate athletics, and ended a three-month search for a successor to Frank Wilton, whose resignation becomes effective in June.

Holcomb, captain of the 1931 Ohio State University football team, coached football at Findlay College and Muskingum College before going to Washington and Jefferson last season.

PENN CLOSES HOME SEASON FOR HARVARD'S QUINTET

With the mathematical opportunity of climbing into a second place tie in the Eastern Intercollegiate League with Cornell and Penn as prime incentive, the Harvard hoop team, boasting a three-game winning streak, its longest of the season, faces Penn tomorrow night in the Harvard gym.

The contest, which marks the final home appearance of the Crimson, gives mentor Earl Brown another chance to clinch the well-deserved title of "basketball coach of the year."

HYDE ON HIGH

Against a highly-favored second place Penn team ten days ago, the same Brownmen who had dropped 15 of 19 games showed they had absorbed Earl's intricate teachings by posting a 53-40 win. Brown was without the services of his steadiest veteran, Joe Romano, who had been sidelined for the year with a knee injury two weeks earlier.

In this contest, sophomore stringbean Hugh Hyde, who had been taught the barest rudiments of the hoop game three months before, scored 18 points. Brown's new "discovery" proved he was no flash in the pan against B. U. last Wednesday night, tossing in 14 points, and hamstringing the experienced Terrier guards on their own backboard.

Hyde reached full bloom Saturday night against Yale, when he dominated the rebound boards on defense and shelled the Eli nets for 14 points to pace his teammates.

FROSH TACKLE DEAN

The same shift that proved so valuable Saturday, when Burditt went to forward from center and Hyde played center instead of guard, will become permanent tomorrow night. In addition, Ed Buckley will start at the other forward, and Capt. Bud Finegan and Ed Rothschild will begin on the guard posts.

Trout Ponds Stocked Up As Ice Goes Out

With the ice reported out of two of its three ponds the Massachusetts Fish and Game Ass'n today began stocking the ponds with trout in preparation for the season opening next Saturday. Chairman Paul Provandie of the fishing committee announced that the ponds will be stocked more heavily this year than for many years past.

The Quincy Rod and Gun Club took advantage of the warm weekend getting in the first trout fishing of the season at its pond near Rore River.

The ice has not yet cleared from the Sharon Fish and Game Club's pond, but plans are under way for opening the season on March 21, if conditions improve.

Up in Needham the ice is beginning to go out of the Needham Sportsman's Ass'n pond near Charles River Village and members hope to get the pond stocked during the week for the season's opening scheduled for Saturday.

HANNAH HOME AFTER 6 WEEKS IN SKI TROOP

By "TAP" GODENOUGH

FRANCONIA NOTCH, N. H., March 10—Back from a six weeks' course of ski instructions is Sel Ha: nah, a rugged racer, former Dartmouth ski captain and Olympic star. With his wife, Polly, Sel operates his delightful Ski Hearth Farm ir this town.

Chatting with this skier, we learned many interesting facts about the parachute troops, although he naturally did not divulge any military secrets.

When the call went out for civilian instructors, Dick Durrance of skiing renown, who heads the school at Alta, sent to Franconia for Hannah.

Walter Prager, ex-Dartmouth ski coach, and now a corporal in the ski troops, was Dick's first assistant. There were eight other instructors here, including Alec Behr of the Franconia Ski School, and Henry Simoneau, noted racer and teacher from Stowe. Such assembled talent comprised the greatest ski school the country has ever seen

TAUGHT ONLY THREE TURNS

None of the boys in this troop had ever had any skiing experience; as a result, they proved to be very apt pupils, taking to the sport like a hot iron does to wax. Even the captain was somewhat unfamiliar with the hickories and had to follow closely behind Sel.

For the first week the instructors did nothing but show the paraskiers the correct downhill running position and had them practice straight schussing on easy slopes. After this the troop was given a week's training in cross-country technique, Sel's specialty.

"We taught them only three turns," stated Sel. "The boys nicknamed the turns The Doodle, The Dipsy Doodle and The Double Doodle. This really consisted of a single stem turn, a double stem turn and a lifted Christiania. Some schools frown on the so-called 'Lifted Christy,' but it is very practical on rough terrain or on breakable crust."

GHOST ARMY

The best of equipment has been issued to all ski troops, and that includes bindings, boots and skis. The men wear reversible suits, white on one side and green on the other, waterproof and wind-resistant. Their skis and rifles are white, making them practically invisible—an army of ghosts!

A parachutist can be dropped from a plane from 10,000 feet and landed with unerring accuracy in a small circle. Packs are parachuted to the earth first and the men are floated almost upon them.

Keep 'em skiing!

$4641, Life Pension For Illinois Athlete

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 10 (INS)—The University of Illinois Athletic Ass'n today was under orders to pay an injured student $4641.90 compensation and later an annual pension as the result of a decision which was said to be perhaps without precedent in the history of industrial relations in this country.

The award was made by the industrial commission of Illinois on the petition of Douglas A. Phillips of St. Louis, Mo., now 22 years old, who was injured during a water carnival May 20, 1939. Phillips was a student until last Friday.

In a 30-foot dive, Phillips' head struck the bottom of the pool at the university and he suffered a hemorrhage of the spinal cord which assertedly resulted in partial paralysis and permanent disability.

The industrial commission decided that the participants in the carnival were in effect employes of the athletic association.

The commission held therefore that Phillips and other participants were protected by the State workmens' compensation law. It ordered that Phillips be paid $2,141.90 for medical and hospital expenses and compensation of $7.50 a week for 333 weeks and one week at $2.50, this dating back to the day of the accident and running for six and a third years.

This totals the $4,641.90 of the award. When payment of this amount is completed, the association is ordered to pay Phillips a pension of $200 annually for life.

DUKE'S WADE ASKS COMBAT ARMY SERVICE

DURHAM, N. C., March 10 (AP)—Wallace Wade, director of athletics and head coach at Duke University, said today he had applied for active Army service in a combat capacity, but, so far as he knows, no action has been taken upon his offer to serve.

In the first World War he was a captain of cavalry. He will be 50 years old next June 15.

Skiers in U. S. Navy Looking Forward To Testing Fujiyama

Look out, Hirohito—the schussers are coming. Skiing on the snow-clad slopes of a Hawaiian volcano may sound like a ski enthusiast's pipe dream, but it's only second fiddle to a few of Uncle Sam's downhillers — who prefer Fujiyama, Tokyo's smoldering giant, in the spring.

At least, so says one Harvard grad, Seton S. Williams, '33, a Navy lieutenant, junior grade, stationed at Pearl Harbor. In a letter to a friend dated Jan. 12, Williams wrote:

"We had hoped to amaze everybody this spring with a ski trip to the Island of Hawaii. The thought of tearing down the cone of a volcano was very appealing prior to Dec. 7. It still sounds like fun, but now we all want to ski down Fujiyama instead of contenting ourselves with an Hawaiian Island." The letter appeared in the Harvard Alumni Bulletin.

$100 HOCKEY CONTEST

GAMES OF WEEK OF MARCH 15 TO MARCH 21

Fill out each game with your score and send it in to the Hockey Contest Editor, Record-American, Box 228, Boston, Mass. Calculate the average scores of the winning and losing teams, omitting those teams for which you have predicted a tie. Your solution must be in this office not later than midnight, Thursday, March 12. Winners will be announced in the Sunday Advertiser of Sunday, March 29. You may use this blank or a facsimile of the same size. In the event of ties, the proximity of estimated scores to actual tallies will determine winners.

The decisions of the Judges are final.
First prize, $50 cash.
Second prize, $25 cash.
Next 25 will be awarded one dollar each.

An entrant is allowed to submit THREE solutions, one each from the Record, the American and the Sunday Advertiser, although each member of the family is eligible to enter.

Anyone may compete except Record-American-Advertiser employes and members of their families.

Former Pics to Play on Mt. Hood Six in National A. H. A.

The Junior Olympics will open the defense of their National A. H. A. title at the Garden next Saturday afternoon when they face the Springfield Braves in the first of four Saturday matinee games.

Alternating periods with the Juniors, which starts at 12:30 p. m. will be the Mt. Hood team of Melrose and the Berlin, N. H. sextet. A couple of former Boston Olympic stars will be wearing the Melrose colors. They are Junie Stubbs and Paul Guibord. Guibord will make a week-end trip from Hartford to play for the Melrose outfit.

In the second set of games, starting at approximately 3:30 p. m., the Manhattan Arrows, New York Met League titlists, will oppose the Lewiston Cyclones, while another Lewiston team, the St. Doms, will clash with the Swampscott Cresenta. The Swampscott team beasts two victories over the strong Hingham Cove team.

Next Saturday's tourney is the third annual National A. H. A. Class B Championship. Two Boston teams have won the tournament during the past two seasons. The now defunct 97 Club of Boston won two years ago, while the Junior Olympics nosed out the Waterville, Maine, entry last winter.

YANKEES PAY FOR BREAKING TRADITION

By the Associated Press

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal.—The possibility that Lee Handley's major league baseball career may be over is a break for Pittsburgh rookie Eddie Leip, second baseman last year with Albany.

Leip was slated for return to the minors until it developed that Handley was unable to throw a ball across the diamond following an automobile accident last winter. He has been sent to Los Angeles for an examination.

• • •

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The New York Yankees broke a tradition of 20 years standing in meeting a member of the American League in a spring exhibition contest yesterday. Now they wish they hadn't. Washington won, 9 to 2.

• • •

TAMPA, Fla.—Cincinnati's rival rookie catchers, Al Lakeman and Ray Lamanno, will divide the receiving duties today in the Reds' meeting with the St. Louis Cardinals. Rollie Hemsley will be the No. 1 successor to Ernie Lombardi behind the plate.

• • •

ORLANDO, Fla.—For their first look of the season at an American League rival the Cleveland Indians named Pitchers Harry Eisenstat, Chubby Dean and Tom Ferrick to oppose Washington. Hank Edwards, young outfielder, got a two-run triple in the fifth and a double in the crucial ninth as the Indians downed the Cardinals yesterday.

• • •

MIAMI, Fla.—The Brooklyn Dodgers headed for their mainland training camp at Daytona Beach today, but before leaving Coach Red Corriden said that Arky Vaughan's new nickname was "Octopus." "He's been getting them all over the field," said Corriden, "so we gave him a new name."

TAGGED IN—Pvt. Morris Arnovich, former major league ball player, may have more tags on his new uniform than a bargain basement, but he didn't bargain his way into Uncle Sam's armed forces via a "cushy" job. The former Phils' outfielder was ushered in at Fort Sheridan as a buck private.

Spahn Underweight; B's Batterymen Ready

By BILL GRIMES

SANFORD, Fla., March 10—Manager Casey Stengel will start to bear down on his Braves today, for his schedule calls for a Yannigan game for Thursday afternoon, and the opening contest of the Grapefruit League will be played here on Saturday with the Washington Senators.

The pitchers and catchers, who have been here for a week, are in pretty good physical condition. Though the hurlers haven't been allowed to put anything on the ball pitching batting practice, they have done plenty of running while shagging fungoes hit by George Kelly and Bob Coleman and their wind is really good.

With the exception of Ernie Lombardi, all of the catchers have seen service back of the plate. Every day that the Braves have been in camp, Stengel has stressed batting and the receivers have had some long workouts.

FEW BLISTERS TO DATE

"I know that Lombardi can catch," declared Stengel when he was asked why big "Lom" hasn't donned his receiving equipment. "Why should I gamble by sending him behind there? All I want is for him to be ready to open the season for us.

"My pitchers have come along very well. Because of the fine soil at the ball park, we haven't had a sign of a pulled muscle. And, moreover, we haven't been handicapped by blisters, which is good news. Dick Errickson had a couple of small ones as did Tom Earley but we were smart enough to have them treated immediately and they didn't lose any time.

"I believe that the entire squad will be ready by the end of the week. Due to the fact that we haven't a loafer on the roster and from my personal observations, I'd say that every man had worked out before coming to camp.

"I'm allowing Warren Spahn and George Diehl to take things easy. I put a new rule into effect this spring. It was that every man should be weighed by "Doc" May when he reported for his first practice and again at the end of each week.

"From May's weight sheet, I discovered that Spahn was 15 pounds lighter than he was at the end of the 1941 season at Evansville. We've got to build him up to about 160 or 165 and we can't do it if he gets as much work as the huskies. He is on a strict diet and has picked up about four pounds. Diehl is big enough (six-two-196) but Bob Coleman informed me that he is a type which should be taken along slowly."

There isn't any question but that the 1942 Braves pack more offensive punch than any of their predecessors have displayed since Bob Quinn took over the club.

In the event that Chet Ross has completely recovered from the leg injury which benched him most of last season, the Braves will have a good hitting ball club. With an outfield comprised of Tommy Holmes in center, flanked by Chet Ross and Max West, Stengel will have the best balanced and powerful trio of gardeners.

Ross and West have tremendous power, while Holmes has never hit under .300 since he went into organized ball. Tommy isn't a slugger but he's an ideal leadoff man, for he looks over pitches very carefully and hits to all fields.

Just what the makeup of the infield will be is too early to predict. However, it's safe to state that a position will be found for Nanny Fernandez who led the Pacific Coast League in hitting last season. Eddie Miller is a better-hitter than his 1941 average of .239 indicates, and Sibby Sisti, after one full season in the majors, should catch up with some of the pitchers who made him look bad a year ago.

Then, too, "Skippy" Roberge was a .300 hitter his first two seasons in minor league ball. For some unknown reason, he flopped last year at Hartford and also with the Braves. Whether he received some bad advice or simply had a bad year, we wouldn't know but we do know that he has always hit and therefore we're confident that he'll stage a comeback this season.

Interstate Loop Eyes New Club

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 10 (AP)—The question of six or eight team membership of the Class B Interstate League was left up to the directors today, with a deadline for their decision.

It came after a spokesman told the group that Walter A. Jones, wealthy Pittsburgh oil man, is interested in acquiring the Reading, Pa., franchise.

If that happens, said the league president, Arthur H. Ehlers of Baltimore, "I personally will take over the eighth franchise and operate it in some city yet to be selected."

GREG RICE SETS NEW MARK; GIL DODDS WINS IN 4:15.7

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Gregory Rice, the former Notre Dame Flyer, clipped more than seven seconds off the world's record for the 2½-mile run in the ninth annual Catholic University games here.

Rice, hitting the tape like a whirlwind, finished in 11 minutes 32.6 seconds for the 30-lap grind Taisto Maki, Finnish star, set the old mark of 11 minutes 40 seconds in 1940. Rice himself turned in an 11 minute 39.5 second performance in 1941. But he was running in a three-mile event at the time.

Rice led throughout the event except for a brief stretch on the 23d lap, when the veteran Joe McClusky of the New York A. C. took over. McClusky wound up second and Dave Williams of Georgetown was third.

Georgetown's Al Blozis and Gil Dodds of Boston established new meet records in the shot-put and mile respectively, here in the ninth annual Catholic University games.

Blozis turned in a disappointing 55 ft. 4⅛ inch performance. It was good enough, however, to crack his own meet record of 54 ft. 6 inches, established a year ago. The huge Georgetown cannonball put the shot 57 ft. ¾ inch in New York 10 days ago.

Dodds, the track sensation of the winter season, captured the Edward Killion Memorial mile in 4:15.7, which earned him the distinction of finest performance of the games. Dodds, running on a slow track, beat Maryland's Tommy Fields by 50 feet. Campbell Kane of Indiana, the Big Ten mile champion, finished a poor third. The old mile mark for the games was 4:15.5, set by Walter Mehl of Wisconsin last year.

Perfect Work Gives Pointer Field Crown

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn., March 10 (AP)—Luminary, a five-year-old black and white pointer from the kennels of A. G. C. Sage of New York, won the coveted National Field Trials championship here today with a smashing performance in a second series run-off.

Running in a 20-minute heat under ideal conditions, the statuesque hunter, fresh from a victory in the national free-for-all at Shuqualk, Miss., turned in three perfectly-handled bevy finds and ranged the tortuous course with precision. He was on game a fourth time when ordered up by the judges.

Luminary's bracemate and closest contender for the title was no match for the Sage entry today. Two of the champion's finds were honored by his rival, Tarheella's Lucky Strike, but Luck failed to uncover game himself. The pointer is owned by Gerald Livingston of Long Island, N. Y.

The title carries with it a $1500 purse and a leg on the C. E. Buckie Memorial Trophy which must be won four times for permanent possession.

Luminary is the son of Dr. Blue willing out of Lullaby.

Harvard's Football Prospects Hurt by College Speedup

Because several of its most important parts have fallen victim to war-time emergencies, the Harvard varsity football team, 1942 model, will not resemble the highly geared machine that Crimson followers have expected.

In addition to the previously reported loss of Don McNicol, No. 1 fullback, who is taking advantage of Harvard's accelerated academic program to graduate in September; Johnny Page, ranking center, and considered the best pivot man to play for the Crimson in several years, will probably not play. The 167-pound Milton Academy grad is taking the same plan of studies as McNicol, and declares he is "almost certain" he won't be around. This would leave sophomore letterman Lloyd Anderson of Old Orchard, Me., and last year's freshman captain, Jack Fisher of Weston, as principal candidates for the position.

GUILD LOST BY INJURIES

Dave Goldthwaite of Medfield, 165-pound blocking back, the only returning letterman at that position, will have entered medical school before the football season rolls around.

Johnny Shattuck, 208-pound reserve tackle, regarded as a potential candidate for either Vern Miller's or Tom Gardiner's newly vacated tackle post, has enrolled in the V-7 branch of the Navy and expects to be called by September. The burly Hingham lad won a minor "H" last fall.

Ray Guild, Cambridge colored flash, may be lost because of injuries last fall. Guild, with the exception of Doug Pirnie, who enlisted in the Navy, the speediest back on last year's squad, also won a minor letter last fall.

The Marine Corps, which has maintained a recruiting office in the Harvard Indoor athletic building the last few days, in addition to enrolling three regulars on the hoop team, has reached into the football grab bag and pulled out two of its most important members, Wayne Johnson and Dick Rowe. While there is a chance that both may play next season due to the six months' notice given by the Marine Corps, there is no guarantee that such notice won't be given within the next few weeks.

FACE 6-MONTH CALL

Johnson is a letterman sophomore whose hard running earned him plenty of praise from football writers last fall. His loss, together with that of McNicol, will leave Dick Harlow without a returning letterman at the wingback pot.

Dick Rowe, 200-pound Cambridge lad, ranked just behind Cowboy Dick Pfister and All-America Endicott "Chub" Peabody at the guard posts.

Portside fireballer Morton "Bud" Waldstein of Brookline, Floyd Stahl's hurling ace, has also been gobbled up by the "leathernecks" and is on six months call.

Aid for MacArthur

SEND SHIPS to aid MacArthur now.

The epical, the heroic, the historic stand of General Douglas MacArthur and his brave men on Bataan Peninsula for three months against continuing overwhelming odds has inspired the American people as have few things in our history.

It has been a tremendous uplifting force in the morale of every American in uniform.

But the question has now arisen in every American's mind:

Why has not help been sent to General MacArthur?

Our day-and-night factories and shipyards are now turning out planes and ships at an ever-increasing tempo.

But where are the pursuit planes and the ships carrying men and munitions that should long ago have been on the way to Bataan?

The mighty prowess of General MacArthur's forces was evidenced the other day when with a handful of bombing planes they sank three Japanese transports in Subic Bay.

With sufficient help from Washington there is no doubt that General MacArthur would be in a position to turn the tide not only in the Philippines but possibly in the whole Pacific war area.

But he fights with an ever-diminishing force against an enemy that grows seemingly more and more powerful.

* * *

WHY has the Administration turned its eyes away from Bataan and centered them on Java and Australia?

The Administration's first aid should have been to our beleaguered Army in the Bataan Peninsula.

It is still not too late.

The Administration should send a powerful overseas force to the Philippines. The American people should themselves take this vital matter in hand.

Americans everywhere in the forty-eight States should write or telegraph the President himself to send ships and planes to General MacArthur.

Write or telegraph to Secretary of War Stimson.

Write or telegraph to Secretary of the Navy Knox.

Write or telegraph to your Representatives and Senators urging them to go to see the President, the Secretary of Navy and the Secretary of War now to urge them to immediate action in the matter of aid to the greatest fighting general that America has produced since the Civil War—maybe the greatest since Washington.

* * *

THERE is something comparable in the present situation of General MacArthur on the Bataan Peninsula and Washington with his soldiers at Valley Forge. Washington had to beg the Continental Congress for help.

But Congress, then, as now, went boondoggling on its own selfish way.

Not only have General MacArthur and his men asked for help but even if they hadn't it would be glaringly evident that without help from home MacArthur cannot hold out very much longer.

He is not looking for a miracle. He is looking for ships, men and planes from home.

He is looking for fidelity, team-work, a sense of obligation at Washington.

Our men—both Americans and the brave and loyal Filipinos—have died in the fox-holes of Bataan listening for this tremendous piece of news from the lips of a fellow-soldier:

"Our people at home have come through—dozens of ships and thousands of planes are here."

But that word has not been heard on the lips of General MacArthur or his men. Why not?

* * *

IT IS now up to you, the American people, to find out.

Write or telegraph to Washington to find out why help has not reached our men of Bataan.

Go to Washington yourself, if necessary.

Organize delegations to go to Washington.

Let us have a universal American demonstration of our feeling on this matter.

Help must reach the dugouts of Bataan immediately.

This is a people's war.

The people have a right to demand of the Administration why the one force among the United Nations that is making a showing in the Pacific is practically deserted.

Write, telegraph, go to Washington.

The soul of Valley Forge, the soul of Gettysburg call to all America from the fox-holes of Bataan—and that call is:

"SEND SHIPS TO AID MacARTHUR NOW"
